Alderman Turner Found Guilty on Bribe Count

JUDGE ANNOUNCES HE WILL IMPOSE SENTENCE TODAY

Defendant Faces Maximum Penalty of Year on Gang, Six Months in Jail, $1,000 Fine.

LAWYER TO MAKE NEW TRIAL PLEA

If Denied, Appeal Will Be Taken—Dr. Turner Declines To Comment on Verdict.

Dr. J. E. Turner, city alderman, Wednesday night was found guilty of bribery, a jury in Judge Wiley B. Moore's court returning a verdict of conviction after deliberating two hours and forty-five minutes.

Sentence will be imposed by Judge Moore at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Under the law Turner faces a maximum of a year on the chain gang, six months in jail and a fine of $1,000.

Convicted on One Count.

Dr. Turner was convicted on one count. The true bill returned against him charged that he accepted a Chevrolet sedan and $500 for putting through council, while he was chairman of the garage committee, a contract with the Federal Motor Truck Sales Corporation for repair of ten city trucks, involving an expenditure of $5,000. The indictment was so drawn as to permit the court to order a verdict on either count and in his instructions to the jury Judge Moore ruled out the second count.

The jury took the case at 6:15 o'clock and returned its verdict on the stroke of 10. Of the intervening time one hour was spent for dinner and the remainder in deliberation.

Dr. Turner had no statement to make. His chief of counsel, Paul S. Etheridge, was not in court when the verdict was read but Morgan Belser, Mr. Etheridge's associate, announced that a new trial would be sought and an appeal taken if the new trial was denied. Judge Moore informed Dr. Turner he would require $1,500 appeal bond after passing sentence today.

Counsel Urges Freedom.

With the demand of Turner's lawyer, Paul S. Etheridge, that they free the alderman because the "state had failed to produce a scintilla of direct evidence to support its charges" and an equally emphatic demand from Solicitor-General John A. Boykin for a verdict of guilty to further stamp out governmental corruption, the jury took the case.

Heated arguments, marked by frequent clashes between Mr. Etheridge and the prosecution, marked the final day of the two-day trial, during which Dr. Turner took the stand and denied the charges in the indictment and further asserted that "he had never done anything wrong in his life."

The defense failing to put up any witnesses other than those who testified as to Dr. Turner's good character, Attorney Etheridge won the closing argument and in it he charged that the state had failed to produce a single witness who gave direct evidence against the accused alderman.

Everything offered here is purely circumstantial and beyond belief," Mr. Etheridge declared. "The state's strongest evidence seems to be the unsupported arguments of Mr. Howard and Mr. Boykin."

Going into the testimony Mr. Etheridge attacked the credibility of Nathaniel Thornton, the state's star witness against Turner, and adding that even the documentary evidence, unsupported by testimony failed to show any wrong doing on the part of Dr. Turner.

"From every angle of this case it is certain that the deal whereby Dr.

DUNNING IS URGED AS G. O. P. HEAD

Plan To Divide State Into White and Black Departments Favored.

A new twist was given to republican affairs in Georgia Wednesday at a meeting of the state central committee of the faction of which J. W. Arnold, of Athens, is chairman, when a resolution was adopted looking to the dividing of the party organization in this state into two departments, one for whites and the other for negroes.

M. O. Dunning, collector of customs at Savannah, was nominated for national committee at the meeting and also received the unanimous endorsement of the committee as a candidate for United States senator to succeed William J. Harris.

The meeting of the state central committee was held in the Odd Fellows' hall and was attended by 51 of the 71 members of the committee, with 16 others being represented by proxy.

Dunning's nomination for national committee followed the withdrawal of a claimant of the place of G. F. Flanders, of Swainsboro, who more than a year ago was endorsed, but who had never received recognition by the national committee of the party.

The vacancy in the office was caused when as a result of a heated contest at the last national republican convention between Ben Davis, Atlanta negro, who had for many years been committee man, and Joe Watson, Albany negro, no nomination was made by the Georgia delegation to the convention.

Leaders On Hand.

Prominent among the leaders of the wing of the party represented at Wednesday's meeting were Arnold, Louis H. Crawford, of Atlanta; Dunning and Ben Davis. The leaders of the other wing of the party, the state into two departments, one for whites and one for negroes, resolutions were adopted authorizing the appointment of committees to set up in each county, one for whites and one for negroes, and resolutions were adopted authorizing the appointment of committees to set up in each county, one for whites and one for negroes.

In addition to the resolution recommending the dividing of the party in the organization plan, one for whites and one for negroes, resolutions were adopted authorizing the appointment of committees to set up in each county, one for whites and one for negroes, and resolutions were adopted authorizing the appointment of committees to set up in each county, one for whites and one for negroes.

Alabama Postmaster Here.

Paul Lipey, postmaster at Montgomery, and Dorelle Cheney, representative of Postmaster-General Brown, attended the meeting. Lipey offered the co-operation of the Alabama republicans in reorganizing the party in Georgia.

A committee on organization was named consisting of G. O. M. Duke, of Florissa; G. F. Flanders and Dr. J. W. Harris, negro, Albany. This committee under its instructions were empowered to take any steps looking to the upbuilding of the party, its functions the conferring with the subcommittee named at Macon by the other wing of the party. While a complete program was outlined at Wednesday's meeting for the reorganization of the party in Georgia, without any apparent attention being made to the rival organization. It is thought that the party is in a state of confusion.

Charlotte Inventor Cures Radio Static

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 18.—(UN)—The Charlotte Observer tomorrow will say William W. Moyle, local amateur radio operator, has perfected a mechanical-chemical device which totally eliminates static from radio reception.

The invention, said to be worth several millions of dollars, is contained in an 8x8 inch tube and can be placed in a set hidden from view. Moyle has received several bids for the patent, he claims.

CUT IN GEORGIA CONGRESS GROUP BELEVED CERTAIN

State Must Show Figure of 3,300,000 Population To Retain Present Representation.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(Special)—While officials of the census bureau have declined to make any prediction as to the application in the various states of the forthcoming congressional reapportionment pending the tabulation of total population figures for the country, an analysis of the situation indicated today that Georgia must show a population of approximately 3,300,000 to retain its present 12 representatives in congress.

On the basis of information now at hand the state seems certain to lose at least one member and perhaps two, depending on a number of factors entering into the computation, although at the time the combined census reapportionment legislation was passed Georgia was listed as one of the commonwealths which were not expected to be affected by reapportionment.

All question of the state gaining an additional member appears to be eliminated by preliminary census returns compiled to date. Excepting five counties in the Savannah census district, these show a population of 2,651,000, representing a gain of less than 40,000 over figures for the same portion of the state in the 1920 census. Should the five missing counties do no more than hold their own, Georgia's population would be considerably below the 3,300,000 mark.

Statements made to detective headquarters by Mrs. Camp and Helen Crowder, 14-year-old waitress, tallied with the census bureau figures. The wife of the safe proprietor described how about a week ago, the Crowder girl had come to her and told her that she was an orphan without a home and that she was in desperate need of work.

Mrs. Camp tearfully related how she befriended the child, taking her into her home, she said, and giving her a job as a waitress in the restaurant. The shooting is said to have been the outgrowth of violent quarrels over the presence of a pretty 14-year-old waitress whom his wife declared she befriended and sheltered in their home about a week ago.

Camp was shot down by Officer John Wood after the restaurant is alleged to have opened fire on Roberts as the result of an exchange of remarks between Camp and Roberts after the officers apparently had reconciled a heated altercation between the restaurant owner and his wife. Camp died at Grady hospital an hour following the shooting.

JONES ENDS FIRST ROUND AT HOYLAKE IN 3-CORNERED TIE

Atlanta, Smith and Cotton Shoot 70's for Two Under Par for Course.

BY ARCH RODGERS.

United News Staff Correspondent.

HOYLAKE, England, June 18.—(UN)—Bobby Jones is away to a flying start in his quest of the British open golf title, with a score of 70 for the first round of the 72-hole championship test.

Tied with the Atlanta at the end of the first day's play were Macdonald Smith and Henry Cotton, 23-year-old British professional.

Never before in the history of the famous championship have three contenders scored this low in a single round. Par for the Royal Liverpool course is 72, but it was bettered today by the above trio, and by Jim Barnes and Fred Robson, who scored 71 apiece.

A torrential rainstorm swept over the crowded fairways in mid-afternoon and took its toll among the cards of the late starters. Jim Barnes was caught by the full fury of the downpour, as was Archie Compston, the tall English pro who won the qualifying medal. Compston finished with a 74.

Escaping the storm, Jones had nothing to trouble him except the failure of his long putts to find the bottom of the cup. As it was, he bagged five birdies on his round to equal the course record.

Six Americans finished among the first 15. Horton Smith shooting a par 72 and Don Moe, the Portland youngster, and Leo Diegel, P. G. A. champion, scoring 73.

Foremost among the British contenders in addition to Cotton and Robson were Norman Sutton, 72; Tom Green, 73; C. A. Whitcombe, 74; Bert Hodson, 74; P. H. Rodgers, 74; and Compston.

Auguste Boyer, of France, completed the list of those within striking distance of the leaders, carding a 73. The one real disappointment among the Americans was George Von Elm, who all but put himself out of the running by taking a 78.

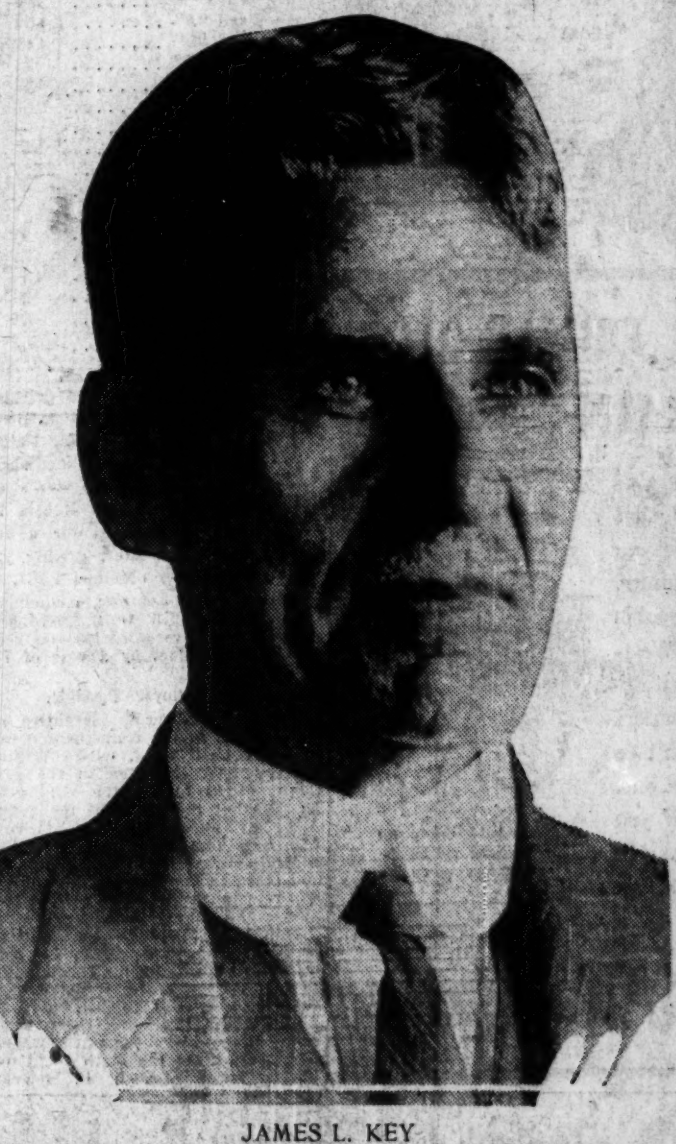

The first 60 in the field will qualify for the final 36-hole test on Friday, and the final California will be among the missing unless he improved considerably on his second round.

The leaders represent quite a new alignment in a British open golf championship. Last year, at Sandwich, only Diegel, Barnes and Macdonald Smith of the above were in the first 15 at the end of the opening day's play. The British players are now new hopes have for Archie Compston, who is counted upon to improve his position.

Bobby Jones appeared rather more nervous than usual during his round. He fussed about his stance on the tee and over several long putts which failed to drop, yet he bagged five birdies and his golf was on a par with anything he ever has shown in England except for his 68 at St. Andrews in 1927.

Henry Cotton, handsome, debonair young professional, stirred up hopes of a home-bred victory by his brilliant play. This 25-year-old pro has played the best and most consistent golf of anyone at Hoylake this week. Macdonald Smith might have shattered the record and taken a convincing lead over all the others had it not been for the rain which caught him during his homeward nine. Out in 33 strokes, three under par, using a brassie from the tee and playing a brilliant iron shot at nearly every hole, Smith needed 37 strokes to get home through the storm. On four holes of his inside nine, Mac just failed to sink long putts, one of them fully 60 feet in length.

2,000 POLICE HUNT DEPOSED BULGARIA CRAZY N. Y. KILLER KING ON WAY HOME

Borough of Queens Like Armed Camp as Mania Sends New Threats.

NEW YORK, June 18.—(UN)—Fear that an arrogant homicidal maniac might attempt to make good his boast that he would soon kill the third man on a list of 10 intended victims converted the borough of Queens into a semblance of an armed camp tonight.

Spurred by the taunts of the madman already credited with the murder of two men, Police Commissioner Mulrooney concentrated 2,000 detectives and uniformed police in the area where it was believed the slayer might be most likely to strike.

The focal points for the extra platoons of police were in the vicinity of Greenvale, where Noel Sowerly, young radio worker, was slain Monday night while in a parked car with a young woman and of College Point, where lived Joseph Moynihan, middle-aged delicatessen dealer who in similar circumstances was shot to death a week ago.

Two men, said to answer the description of the slayer, as given by the girls in the death cars, were picked up by detectives during this evening. One was found on the Bergen Landing road. The second was arrested near College Point. He was about 40, and shabbily dressed. Police would not say more regarding either man. The girls will be asked to confront them in an effort to identify them.

There was a special reason for the elaborate guard around College Point. The killer threatened in a letter to the New York Evening Journal to appear there tonight and take a third life. He even specified a time—5 o'clock—and in the bizarre cabalistic code with which he has decorated his paranoid communications he named his potential victim—W. R. Y.—"S." He styled himself "3 X" and "the man behind the gun."

Nine o'clock came and went and there was nothing to indicate to Mulrooney in his temporary headquarters at Jamaica that the mysterious "W. R. Y. S." had bowed to an assassin.

Police were quick to admit, however, that even with a force of 20,000 men it would not be possible to patrol all of the out-of-the-way roads where there might be lurking an elusive madman intent on fulfilling his brazen threat. Because of the menace Queens communities were at a high moral level tonight.

Parking was permitted until 10 o'clock, but few couples availed themselves of the privilege to draw up on the roadside on this fair June evening. From 10 o'clock until dawn police have orders to keep all highways clear.

The last letter to be received from the maniac was addressed to Inspector.

JOHN L. CONE WINS RECORDER CONTEST

Seven Incumbents Are Swept Out of Office, While Only Five Weather Political Storm.

James L. Key, former mayor of Atlanta, was nominated Wednesday for a four-year term as mayor over three opponents in a primary which swept virtually every office holder, who had been mentioned in the graft and corruption exposes in municipal politics, from his post.

A wide swath was cut in the ranks of the incumbents and in several instances, the voters even declined to renominate those against whom there has been no breath of scandal.

Seven incumbents lost their places while five weathered the storm which burst from every part of the city.

Key's total vote was 6,320 votes as against 5,738 for Wiley L. Moore, the runner-up. Ben T. Huie, alderman from the third ward, received 4,996 and William H. Johnson, city warden, fourth entry, 512. A total of 17,566 votes was cast out of 25,788.

None of the mayoralty candidates had ever been mentioned in the graft probe, but Key was the only one not connected with the government, and predicated his fight for the post solely on clean, honest government, while Moore urged "a business administration."

There will be no runoff, since all four of the candidates agreed that the one receiving the highest number of votes would be declared the nominee. This same agreement was made in the seventh ward council contest and the race for judge of the second division of the county court.

John L. Cone Wins.

John L. Cone, city paymaster, was nominated under agreement, for recorder of the second division, getting 5,139 votes as against 4,695 for Frank R. Fling, runner-up. John E. Chambers, third entrant, got 3,491, while the fourth contender, Homer C. Denton, had 3,301.

Robert F. Pennington, incumbent, was defeated for the nomination as alderman from the first ward, with 3,101 votes.

Asks Dry Law Change

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(UN)—Representative M. Alfred Michaelson, republican, Illinois, who voted for the Jones "five-and-ten" prohibition penalty act, today introduced a resolution to amend the prohibition amendment by authorizing congress to suppress or regulate intoxicating liquor.

The Literary Digest poll, the St. Valentine's Day gang massacre in Chicago, and increase in crime generally were mentioned by Michaelson as indicating "this effort to make the country dry by force is weakening the foundations of our political institutions."

7,297 votes as against 8,973 for his opponent, Guy Coleman.

J. Allen Couch, incumbent, under indictment in the graft probe, was defeated for alderman of the fifth ward with 4,119 votes against 12,793 for his opponent, former Councilman James E. Bowden.

Alderman G. Everett Millican, of the tenth ward, the only one of the incumbents on whom the electorate cast its ballot, who was returned to his post, was given 11,825 votes while John Mackey got only 4,825.

McCutcheon Renominated.

Howard C. McCutcheon, councilman of the second ward, was renominated over his opponent, Philip Rosenbaum, by a vote of 629 to 590.

G. Dan Bridges won the third ward councilmanic post to succeed Councilman Charles L. Chosewood, who will retire, by a vote of 1,170 to 783 for Ed L. Almas.

Joseph E. Berman, incumbent, won renomination as councilman from the fourth ward, getting 608 votes to 399 for his opponent, J. E. Adams.

Luke Arnold, councilman from the sixth, who was named by council to succeed Harry York, following resignation of York after his conviction in the bribery trials, was defeated for a full term by John M. Owen. The vote was Owen, 346; Arnold, 303.

Marler Nominated.

John T. Marler was nominated to council from the seventh ward to succeed Councilman Moore, defeated for the mayoralty nomination, over two opponents. He was given 885 votes, while J. O. Aldridge got 578 and Zack Layfield, third entrant, 441.

from the eighth ward, was defeated for renomination by J. Frank Beck, getting 984 votes to 1,024 for Beck.

W. Paul Carpenter, incumbent from the ninth ward, who was elected by council to succeed Robert M. Cobb, Jr., was defeated for a full term by Homer Foster, getting 727 votes while Foster obtained 1,131.

William R. Johnson, councilman from the eleventh ward, weathered the storm, and defeated his opponent, Cecil V. Whidden, by a vote of 771 to 394.

One Runover Possible.

The only runover in the entire primary looms in the councilmanic race in the twelfth ward, where William E. Saunders, convicted in the graft trials, failed to get the vindication he asked at the hands of the voters.

H. M. Rantin was given 341 votes and was high man in this contest, while Saunders was nosed out of second place by seven votes when Thomas W. Jones received 274 votes against 267 for Saunders.

James W. Maddox, member of the board of education from the fifth ward, lost his fight for renomination to H. J. Penn, a former member of the board, by 837 to 501.

Mrs. Julia O'Keefe Nelson, school commissioner from the sixth, was renominated from the sixth ward over her opponent, Joseph P. McGrath.

Mrs. Nelson had 316 votes and McGrath 310.

Win Without Opposition.

The following were renominated without opposition: Councilman H. Turner Locher, of the first ward; Councilman William T. Knight, of the fifth; J. Raymond Curtis, for councilman from the tenth ward to succeed W. Garland Cooper, who will retire; Dr. N. W. Baird, for the board of education from the seventh ward to succeed Dr. McIntosh M. Burns, who will retire, and John T. Hancock, school commissioner from the eighth ward.

The mayor and all aldermen nominated in the races Wednesday will serve for four years instead of two and three, respectively, as heretofore, beginning January 1, 1930. Council members will serve for three years instead of two.

These changes were made in amendments to the charter of Atlanta by the Georgia legislature at its last session.

Candidates Grateful.

At the home of Mr. Key Wednesday night, it was stated that he had retired because of a strenuous day in visiting many sections of the city. Through members of his family, however, he expressed his gratitude to the voters for their support in his race, and his happiness over his nomination.

Councilman Moore said that he is satisfied with the verdict of the people and will write a personal letter of congratulation to Mr. Key today.

"I wish to take this opportunity to thank the people of Atlanta for their generous support," Mr. Moore said. "I am satisfied with the verdict of the people and I assure Mr. Key that he will have my support, 100 per cent, as a citizen of Atlanta during his term of office. Thursday I will address a personal letter to him congratulating him on his nomination. So far as I am concerned, the hatchet is buried, and I shall do nothing in my power as a citizen to make his administration a success."

"I wish to thank each person who cast his ballot for me in the race for mayor," Mr. Huie said. "It is my firm belief that every ballot cast for me was in the interest of clean government and was given to me without financial aid. I will continue my services as alderman and will always try to make every deal a square deal."

I promise to espouse the cause of pure justice, to fulfill in a capable manner every duty that is mine, to so conduct the court as to merit continued confidence and co-operation and to follow in the future the policy I have pursued in the past in administering justice to all alike, showing mercy whenever it is deserved."

John L. Cone, nominated as judge of the second division, issued the following statement: "To those who so loyally supported me in this race, I wish to express my gratitude, and to those who supported any of the other candidates, I promise the faithful performance of the duties of the office, administering justice and mercy with the best discrimination possible. I shall endeavor to be fair and impartial. The host of friends I made in the race will have my undying friendship."

Robert F. Pennington, who lost the nomination for that post, declared "I am exceedingly grateful to my many friends for the fine way in which they supported me, and I shall continue to attempt to serve the best interests of Atlantans during the remainder of my term."

Bowden Thankful.

James E. Bowden, nominated as councilman from the fifth ward, declared "I shall always be grateful to those who supported me, and will give the people of Atlanta a clean, honest administration always looking towards their best interests."

Alderman J. Allen Couch, defeated for the position, declared, "I am grateful to the host of friends who supported me, and will continue to give the people of Atlanta the best service that is in me for the balance of my term."

G. Everett Millican, renominated as alderman from the tenth ward, said: "To those who supported me, I wish to express my thanks. I have always endeavored to serve the best interests of all Atlantans and will continue to give them my best services looking towards a clean, businesslike administration."

John C. Mackey, Millican's opponent, issued a short statement "thanking the many friends who rallied to my support and who so loyally backed my candidacy."

Councilman Howard C. McCutcheon, of the second ward, who was renominated, issued the following statement: "I wish to express my gratitude and thanks to those who so loyally supported my candidacy and to tell the people of Atlanta and the second ward, that I shall continue to serve their best interests in the future as I have in the past."

Joseph E. Berman, of the fourth ward, renominated as councilman, declared, "I will continue to serve the best interests of the ward and of the

RUMOR NOW PLACES LINGLE AS RACKETEER

Chicago Council Decides Prohibition Is Root of Gang Cancer.

CHICAGO, June 18.—(AP)—Sinister rumors of "Jake" Lingle's gangland affiliations became a matter of court record in criminal court today.

A gangster, on trial as a gun-toter, was quoted as protesting to the detective who picked him up that he "worked for Jake Lingle."

The public clamor for action had another answer in the city council which directed its police committee to prosecute thorough inquiry into the conduct of the police department under Commissioner William F. Russell.

Alderman Arthur F. Albert announced that he would launch the investigation Thursday morning. Summoning his acting commissioner, John H. Alcock, and the department records for inspection, Mayor Thompson presided over the city council but offered no nomination for Russell's successor. Alcock, the "iron man" of the force, remained in command as ranking deputy commissioner and issued orders that "golf playing captains" would not be tolerated—but how long Alcock will be chief the mayor refused to say.

The council passed another resolution memorializing congress to submit a national referendum on the restoration of state rights in the control of the liquor traffic. The memorial implored the prohibition laws the division of "millions of dollars from the treasury into the pockets of bootleggers, thus subsidizing crime which has become a major industry."

"These laws," it read, "have undemanded all respect for authority, demoralized the people and have led to the destruction of constitutional rights, such as freedom from unreasonable search and seizure and the right of trial by jury."

The evidence linking Lingle to the underworld was brought out in the court room where Anthony "Red" Kinsane, reputed Capone henchman, faced the jury trial he had demanded on an indictment for bearing a concealed revolver. Detective William Murray took the stand and testified, arresting the gangster on a downtown street, searching him and finding the weapon. He said he asked Kinsane what he was doing in the loop.

Alderman Albert, urging his resolution for an investigation of the police, asserted the city council must accept the responsibility for the situation and "do the work the state's attorney does not or cannot do." He drew attention to the clean-up of Philadelphia by Brigadier General Smalley Butler.

"Is there anyone," he asked, "who says these crimes could be committed without the connivance of police and gangsters?"

"Chicago is governed by police captains. The remedy is not to transfer a captain from one station to another but to find the guilty ones to the penitentiary."

"Let us find out why police captains ride in Lincoln automobiles and live like Rockefeller while men are being shot down in the street," Alderman Jacob M. Arvey pointed out that Illinois parole laws restrain convicts from leaving the state, while other states exile their paroled convicts and send them to jail if they come back. The Illinois law, he said, invites trouble.

Brock and Schlee Seek Rest Following Epochal Flight

WILL ATTEMPT TO BREAK OWN RECORDS

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 18.—(AP)—Doggedly battling storms and fuel shortages on their eastward trip, William S. Brock and Edward E. Schlee today completed the fastest recorded round-trip ocean-to-ocean flight across the United States.

They reached San Diego in the record time of 13 hours, 55 minutes and 30 seconds without incident, but adversity which struck them soon after they started the return voyage followed them to the end. Despite this, however, the fliers managed to make it back in 16 hours and 50 minutes. Their elapsed time for the round trip was 31 hours and 35 minutes.

After fighting severe electrical storms and head winds over the Rockies last night and being forced to land for fuel at Tallulah, La., this morning, they ran out of gas again at the municipal airport and crashed into a fence, narrowly escaping injury, and doing considerable damage to the plane. They had flashed over longer than taken by Brock and Schlee. Hawks made the westward trip in 19 hours and 10 minutes, flying from New York to Los Angeles. His eastward time was 17 hours and 45 minutes. His elapsed time was 43 hours and 55 minutes.

The pair easily beat the previous records held for transcontinental flights between Jacksonville and San Diego and San Diego and Jacksonville. The first westward trip from Jacksonville was made by Lieutenant James H. Doolittle in 1922. Brock and Schlee cut more than 7 hours from this record.

Major T. C. McCulley, of San Diego, made the initial west to east flight in 1919.

Brock and Schlee left here on their westward flight at 5:04 a. m. (E. S. T.) Tuesday, arriving at San Diego at 3:58 p. m. (P. S. T.). They had planned to make the round trip in 24 to 30 hours and would have succeeded had they not met with storms.

Soon after landing today, the tired fliers expressed the determination to rest-up and try the same flight again. Brock said he believed he could make the eastward flight in 10 to 11 hours with better weather conditions.

The return here today was dramatic in that officials and watchers who stood all morning in the rain had virtually decided the fliers were forced down in some isolated area of the far west. Shortly before noon a plane resembling Brock and Schlee's was reported at Thomasville, Ga., and soon after that the ship was over the finish line.

EARLY START URGED ON VIADUCT PAVING

With every obstacle to actual laying of the paving on the southern span of the Forsyth street viaduct removed Wednesday, Chief of Construction Clarke Donaldson announced that he will make a personal inspection of the improvement today and will confer with officials of the MacDougall Construction company in an effort to rush the work to early completion.

Officials of the engineering division of the Georgia Power company declared that all the work they must do to replace rails over the structure had been finished Tuesday and that the laying of the paving can be begun at once.

At the same time Harold Coolidge declared that 70 merchants in the vicinity of the viaduct are suffering large losses because of the closing of Forsyth street in addition to the inconvenience that Atlantans generally are suffering.

It has been announced by construction officials that the bridge can be opened to traffic within 24 hours after the last of the paving is laid because of the fact that an asphalt top is to be used, and the inspection today will be for the purpose of pushing the start of this work with all haste possible.

"The construction department will do everything possible to hasten completion of the project," Mr. Donaldson said, "and we feel sure that the contractors on the structure will lend every assistance in the work. Our department will insist that the work be prosecuted with all possible haste in order that the great inconvenience can be eliminated at the earliest possible moment."

"Seventy merchants have signed a petition asking that the work be prosecuted as rapidly as possible because of the fact that trade in the area has been virtually paralyzed," Mr. Coolidge said. "We feel sure that every effort will be made to hasten the work, and that nothing should stand in the way of pushing it to the utmost."

County Police Seeking Haynes Manor Vandals

As the result of complaints of citizens living in Haynes Manor, Fulton county police in that section are keeping a watchout for miscreants who have for the past week or so kept up a barrage of large stones and concrete blocks on the mail boxes and street lights in that residential subdivision.

All along Peachtree Battle avenue especially residents have suffered from the defacing or destroying of expensive and ornamental mail boxes. In each instance where a damaged box was discovered there have been found nearby the large rocks or pieces of concrete with which the mischief was performed, and it is the theory of the police that the work has been done by mischievous joy-riders who, having filled their cars up, with missiles, have aped up and down, taking pot shots at mail boxes and driveway lights.

A special coverage of Peachtree Battle avenue has been instituted by the county police and the residents of Haynes Manor have promised active prosecution of any who may be detected by the police in further destruction of property in that section.

Snowden Wins Battle In House of Commons

LONDON, June 18.—(AP)—After having been tied up for more than 21 hours in a wrangle over the finance bill the house of commons adjourned at noon today with the passage of a clause of the budget for which Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, had been struggling with his characteristic grimness and determination. The vote on the clause was 222 to 80.

The house battled all night long, sometimes bitterly, over the bill. It was a dogged contest, the present chancellor yielding no ground to his adversaries.

The commons had been in session 21 hours and 45 minutes. This was one of the longest sittings in its history. The house of commons was a close dealing with the powers of special commissioners of income tax to inquire into share holdings.

The sprightliness of the women labor members was a feature of the debate. Dr. Ethel Beatham sat in the house throughout the night. Mrs. Mary Hamilton, lady Cynthia Mosley, Ellen Wilkinson and Miss Picton-Tuberville, dashed in and out from time to time.

Winston Churchill and Philip Snowden bore the brunt of serious exchanges as a result of the riots and measure against Churchill's front lashings.

President of Cuba Faces Crime Charge

HAVANA, June 18.—(AP)—Leaders in the nationalist party have filed criminal proceedings against President Machado, General Herrera, chief of the army, and three other government executives as a result of the riots and deaths at Artemisa a month ago.

The action charges President Machado and his aides with the responsibility of several deaths and the wounding of 40 when soldiers charged a nationalist meeting at that place.

Those named besides the president are General Enrique Gomez, Colonel Benitez, chief of the military district of Pinar del Rio; Major Navarro, chief of the post of Guanajay, and Captain Fernandez, chief of the Artemisa forces.

ONE PRESCRIPTION MADE FAMILY DOCTOR FAMOUS

Seldom has any single act been of greater benefit to mankind than that of Dr. Caldwell in 1885, when he wrote the prescription which has carried his fame to the four corners of the earth.

Over and over, Dr. Caldwell wrote the prescription as he found men, women and children suffering from those common symptoms of constipation, such as coated tongue, bad breath, headaches, nervousness, biliousness, no energy, lack of appetite, and similar things.

Demand for this prescription grew so fast, because of the pleasant, quick way it relieved such symptoms of constipation, that by 1888 Dr. Caldwell was forced to have it put up ready for use. Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is always ready at any drug store.—(adv.)

$3,001,639 School Budget Is Approved by Ragsdale

Mayor Affixes His Signature to 11-Month Finance Paper 'With Great Reluctance.'

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale Wednesday afternoon "with great reluctance" approved the budget of the Atlanta board of education calling for expenditure of $3,001,639 for operation and maintenance of the system until December 1 of this year.

The budget, therefore, calls for maintenance of the system for only 11 months, and unless $350,000 and $400,000 is provided to meet the December expenses, the schools will be closed the entire month of December.

Calling attention to the "unsound and dangerous principle for a department to live beyond its income," the mayor declared that the school department will run a heavy deficit for the year, and that "all other departments will suffer severely" because of the serious crippling of the city's finances next year in an attempt to absorb so large a deficit.

Text of the mayor's message in approving the budget follows:

"Board of Education,
"City of Atlanta,
"Gentlemen:

"I have approved the budget adopted by the board of education June 10, 1930, and return same herewith.

"My approval is affixed with great reluctance, since the budget does not provide enough money for operation of the schools during full remainder of the year.

"According to statement by Dr. Mcintosh M. Burns, president, who accompanies the budget, funds for continued operation of the schools will be exhausted by December 1.

"It is unsound and a dangerous principle for a department to live beyond its income. Last year the city took care of a deficit of $125,000 in the school department.

"Between $350,000 and $400,000 will be required to relieve the deficit which will face the schools on January 1.

"This situation will have the effect of seriously crippling the city's finances for next year and the year will either close with a larger deficit or else all the other departments will suffer severely.

"I feel it my duty to urge upon the board as strongly as possible the necessity of conserving to the utmost the funds allotted the school system.

"Respectfully,
"I. N. RAGSDALE,
"Mayor."

NEW CHICKAMAUGA ROAD WORK IS LET

A contract for paving the so-called LaFayette extension road, from LaFayette to Fort Oglethorpe through Chickamauga Park, was let Wednesday by the war department to the Brown Construction Company, of Chattanooga, according to information received by J. W. Barnett, state highway director.

Bids were received at the quarter-master's office at Fort Oglethorpe. The low bid was $386,001.

The highway is a joint undertaking of the state of Georgia and the federal war department. The war department offered $403,500 for its construction, and the sum was matched by an appropriation made by the last legislature.

The road will be built by the war department, the state highway department paying its share of construction costs on a monthly basis. The road, which is 12 miles long, is expected to be completed by late summer.

A list of highway projects on which bids will be received June 26 was also released by the highway department Wednesday. Approximately 85 miles of highway improvements are called for.

Projects included in the list are: Ten miles of paving between Gainesville and Baldwin in Habersham and Heard counties.

Sixteen miles of concrete paving between Swainsboro and Statesboro in Bulloch county.

Thirteen miles of paving in Houston county.

Fourteen miles of limestone surfacing on the Valdosta-Waycross highway in Lowndes county.

One mile of paving between Winder and Jefferson in Barrow and Jackson counties.

Six miles of concrete paving in between Griffin and Zebulon in Pike county.

Seven miles of paving between Thomasville and the Florida line in Grady county.

Seven miles of paving between Atlanta and Austell in Cobb county.

A bridge between Athens and Watkins and another between Winder and Jefferson are included in the list.

New York Plans Great Welcome For Byrd Today

NEW YORK, June 18.—(P)—Richard E. Byrd, explorer of the air and of the earth, was steaming into port tonight after his latest exploit—a flight that made him victor over the south pole just as he was already conqueror of the north pole.

Just 20 years ago today former President Theodore Roosevelt was given one of the city's most tumultuous welcomes on his return from 16 months in darkest Africa. A similarly boisterous reception was planned for the man who has just completed 16 months in the icy wastes of Antarctica.

Late today Mrs. Byrd, who has not seen her famous husband for almost two years, stole a march on the other thousands preparing to greet him and steamed down the bay in a seagoing tug to join him outside the harbor.

Accompanied by all the members of the expedition who returned ahead of its commander she left the Battery in the tug almost before anyone learned of the plan. She is expected to board the admiral's flagship and spend the night there, returning to the city with him tomorrow.

Just as her departure was learned the Antarctic ships were sighted off Highlands, N. J., about two hours' steaming distance from quarantine. It was understood, however, that the craft from the coast south would lie outside the bay during the night and hold to their scheduled time of arrival.

The admiral and his officers and crew are due to arrive at quarantine at 10 o'clock eastern standard time tomorrow morning. There they will be met by relatives, friends and officials in three tugs and will be taken aboard for a triumphal marine parade up the bay.

Governors Island will fire a 13-gun salute to the admiral just before the tug is up at the Battery and the city's citizenry get their first chance to shout a mass greeting to the explorer they have twice welcomed before, once when he flew across the Atlantic and again after he had flown across the north pole.

Former Pastor Seeks Freedom From Drugs

NEW ORLEANS, June 18.—(P)—Bunyan Champlin, once pastor of the Lakeview Baptist church in New Orleans, but who lost his charge after becoming a narcotic addict, became separated from his family and worked for an automobile firm, today was seeking recovery from the habit in the Orleans parish prison.

The former minister, once well respected, was sentenced after his career of nervous disorder and breakdown by Judge Leininger in recorder's court to serve 30 days in jail as a narcotic addict.

Six or eight years ago Champlin labored loyally among his congregation for a new church in the Lakeview section and he and his congregation decided to construct a dawn-to-dusk building.

They assembled the materials and accomplished what they set out to do. Grown men and women, boys and girls, laid the foundations, placed the timbers and drove the nails and by dusk the congregation and their prayers of thanksgiving under the roof of the new church.

Champlin's downfall was assigned to overwork. He fell into the hands of narcotics peddlers and went down the road gradually from the pastorate to prison.

The fallen preacher obtained a position with a local motor firm selling automobiles and made a statement to officers that he traded an automobile worth about $550 for narcotics.

Today detectives traced the missing car, recovered it and made the arrest of the man to whom it is alleged to have been sold.

The parish authorities considered Champlin a "sick man" and were seeking to cure him of the evil.

FRENCH WOMAN WINS HIGH MEDICAL HONOR

LOCAL BANK DIVIDENDS WILL REACH $1,300,000

Huge Sum Will Be Distributed to Atlanta Stockholders for First Quarter.

Atlanta bank dividends for the second quarter of 1930 will amount to more than $1,300,000, with this approximation representing only the dividends of four Atlanta banks, it was learned Wednesday afternoon.

The four banks involved are the First National, the Citizens & Southern National, the Empire Trust Company and the Georgia Savings Bank & Trust Company.

Following announcement by the board of directors of the Citizens & Southern National bank of the regular quarterly dividend of 4 per cent on that institution's 50,000 shares of stock outstanding, it was learned that based on the same ratio of quarterly declarations the four financial houses will disburse approximately $1,324,000 for the second fiscal quarter of 1930. This represents a total of 597,000 shares of stock outstanding by the First National bank, the Citizens & Southern, Empire Trust Company and the Georgia Savings Bank & Trust Company.

In every case the stock of each of the four banks was reported selling substantially above par value. Dividends this year have been distributed promptly in every case, it was reported, and future "melons" will be "cut" right on time, it was said.

In addition to the Citizens and Southern dividend declaration Wednesday it was learned that the First National board next Tuesday will meet at which the regular quarterly dividend of $2 on each of the 540,000 shares of outstanding stock will be declared, reaching a sum of $1,080,000 for the quarter. The stock is valued at $10 par, and while it is known that it is selling at a much higher figure, bank officials were unable to give the figure for recent sales.

The Empire Trust Company reported that the second quarterly dividend on the 2,000 shares of outstanding stock of that institution had been declared last week at the regular board meeting, the stock being on an annual basis of $8 per share, $4,000 was distributed. Empire stock has a par of $100 per share and is selling around $110, it was reported.

It was learned from the Georgia Savings and Trust Company that the bank's board meets only twice a year for dividend considerations, and that next September 15 the officers will declare a disbursement of $4 a share on each certificate, based on an annual dividend of 8 per cent. Soucek 76 Feet Short of New Mark

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(UN)—A world seaplane altitude record surpassing his own previous record was credited for a time today to Lieutenant Apollo Soucek, U. S. N., the "highest flying human," but National Aeronautic Association officials later explained he missed making it official by only 76 feet.

Soucek put his tiny Wright Apache up to 39,140 feet here Friday, calibration of his barograph showed today. His previous world seaplane record, set a year ago, was 38,500 feet, and the 580-foot higher mark was believed a record until it was explained that a new record must beat the old one by 200 meters—656 feet.

Nevertheless, Soucek, who is now honeymooning in Wellsville, N. Y., holds both land and sea plane altitude records. He set the land plane record in the same Apache fitted with wheels instead of pontoons a few days ago by climbing to 43,100 feet.

Schroeder's 'Widow' Declares Him Alive

MOBILE, Ala., June 18.—(P)—H. F. Schroeder is alive, according to a statement made to Sheriff Winkler, of Marion county, Indiana, late today by Schroeder's wife, Mrs. Leah Schroeder. She admitted that she had received two letters from her husband at Nashville, Tenn., early in June, several days after an unidentified charged body was found in Schroeder's burning automobile miles from Indianapolis. The admission was gained from Mrs. Schroeder after she was questioned at length today by Winkler and other Indiana investigators, according to the sheriff.

INCOME TAX REDUCTION NOT LIKELY TO LAST

Mounting Government Expenses Expected To Bar Continuance of Cut.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP)—With government expenditures climbing beyond budget estimates for the fiscal year 1937, continuation of the 1 per cent reduction in taxes on incomes made for the calendar year 1936, seemed improbable today although the treasury will complete the 1936 fiscal year with a surplus.

The 1 per cent reduction on all normal and corporation incomes was granted by congress at the recommendation of Secretary Mellon. He said the government in the 1936 fiscal year ending June 30 would have enough surplus to permit the cut. The decrease falls in two fiscal years, $80,000,000 in each, and reduced estimated receipts by that amount.

Growing income tax receipts for the present fiscal year were expected to overcome the loss sustained through the lowered rates but this situation was not expected to continue in the next fiscal year.

President Hoover in his budget estimate last December included figures in which the treasury set the surplus in revenue for the 1936 fiscal year at $122,788,906.

Since that time the Spanish war pension bill passed over the president's veto has added about $75,000,000 to the government expenditures for the coming 12 months and the farm board expenses are expected to be $100,000,000 more than the treasury had estimated.

Lovely Costumes Arrive in City For Kiddie Revue

Gorgeous costumes, created in New York especially for the Atlanta kiddie revue, "Toytown," to be given all next week at the Capitol theater, have been distributed and tried by the more than a hundred local children who will take part in the production. It is doubtful if Atlanta has ever seen more beautiful or elaborate ensemble costumes than these for the local revue.

The presentation is being given at the Capitol, under the auspices of the Atlanta Yvonne Club, as a benefit for the milk fund of the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children. Girls of the Pi Pi Club, dressed as milkmaids, will be found in the lobbies of the theater all next week, to collect in their milkpails the contributions from the audiences for the splendid cause. It is hoped to secure enough money to provide all the health giving milk the little patients at the hospital can drink in the next year.

The "Toytown" revue is given as an added attraction to the regular Capitol bill which will include, next week, the great comedy of life in New York in the gay nineties, "The Flamingo Girl" starring Marion Davies, and one of the vaudeville programs of "Loew 'Ace' vaudeville."

Chester Hale, famous New York revue producer, will reach Atlanta Saturday, and will see the final rehearsals of the "Toytown" revue and put the finishing touches on the production. His first assistant, Miss Margaret Hale, will see the final rehearsals of the "Toytown" revue and put the finishing touches on the production. Officer Wood, in reporting the details of the tragedy, declared that he and Roberts were sent out on a complaint telephoned in to headquarters. Wood said that after reaching the cafe the altercation had been settled, and promptly manning of harbor defenses to repel attack in the event of war should proceed, when the next emergency arises, with a system and rapidly far beyond anything this country has ever been able to do in its wars of the past, because of carefully prepared organization and detailed plans for mobilization, Brigadier General Harold B. Fiske declared in an address Wednesday night over radio station WGST on "Coast Defense in the Southeast."

"The World War showed us the great value of huge guns mounted on railroad cars in land operations and of the possibility of drawing guns and howitzers of great calibre almost anywhere by tractors," General Fiske said. "Since the war we have realized that it is practicable to use mobile batteries of this sort for reinforcing our fixed armament in harbor defenses against enemy vessels and even for the complete defense of those harbors which have no fixed defense in place."

General Fiske said that in the event of war, the 13th coast artillery regiment of the regular army will be expanded to two or three times its peace strength. Several regiments of national guard coast artillery troops will aid in manning the coast defenses. Anti-aircraft guns required to defend the harbors would be manned by an inactive regiment of regulars. "There are some 15 regiments of coast artillery reserves; ten of which, so far as their officers are concerned, have been organized," he said. General Fiske spoke of the citizens' military training camps which will be maintained this summer at various forts in the fourth corps area.

Arrangements have been made with Havana brokers to receive shipments of Georgia watermelons and peaches beginning July 1. T. B. Gress, assistant attorney-general and a member of the Foreign Trade Club, announced Wednesday.

Several conferences have been held between dealers and officials of Georgia railroads and Havana interests, and Mr. Gress said he had information which indicated that the shippers would get from $250 to $500 more in Cuba than in eastern and midwestern markets.

He said that Tilmann Hall, of Dublin, a large watermelon grower, would send the first carload to Cuba, and that Charles Maloney, president of the Wrightsville & Tennille railroad, and W. C. Hall, of the Georgia & Florida railroad, were co-operating in the project. Gress said he would go to Cuba July 1 to supervise the initial shipment.

Eugene Talmadge, state commissioner of agriculture, said occasional melon shipments had been made to Cuba and that unquestionably there would be a wide market in Havana for Georgia melons if the Cuban seasonal tariff were lifted.

This tariff, he estimated, would amount to about $250 a car. He also stated that the Cuban melon season is earlier than the Georgia season, and that the two should not conflict.

Final Rites Today For Fred Rivers, 21
Funeral services for Fred Rivers, 21, who died here Tuesday, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the Riverside Baptist church.

The Rev. W. M. Albert, assisted by the Rev. J. T. Wilner, will officiate. Interment will be in the churchyard.

Mr. Rivers, who was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Rivers, 370 Elm street, died Tuesday on the six-month anniversary of his marriage, December 17, to Miss Lucile Bryant, of this city. Death was caused by typhoid fever.

Besides his widow and parents he is survived by four brothers, Guy Rivers, James S. Rivers, John S. Rivers, Jr., and Thurston Rivers, all of this city, and one sister, Mrs. H. Sweetman, of Decatur.

Slays Pal's Killer

Promptness on the part of Officer John Wood (left) probably saved his own life Wednesday when he shot down Nick D. Camp (right), Marietta street cafe proprietor, who, without warning, had opened fire on Wood's partner, Aaron B. Roberts, veteran policeman, fatally wounding him. Camp died at Grady hospital shortly after the shooting.

POLICEMAN, CAFE OWNER KILLED

was the reason, the Crowder girl told officers, she herself called officers, and upon their arrival an amicable settlement had been made in which she found herself dismissed.

Officer Wood, in reporting the details of the tragedy, declared that he and Roberts were sent out on a complaint telephoned in to headquarters. Wood said that after reaching the cafe the altercation had been settled, and the explanation of the couple caused the officers to decide not to make an arrest.

Roberts, Wood said, was sitting in a chair against the wall, while Camp, infuriated, though quiet, stood directly opposite.

"She's (Mrs. Camp) had me jailed once before," Wood reported Camp as declaring, "and it was for nothing. I'm not going to jail this time for nothing."

"Well, if that's the way you feel," began Roberts, rising from his chair. Wood narrated, without comment, that Camp blazed away with a gun he evidently had his hand upon beneath the counter. Roberts slumped to the floor with a bullet through his body. Wood drew his gun, wheeled and fired twice, both bullets striking Camp, who fell to the floor. Both wounded men were carried to Grady.

Wood's story compared in detail with that told by Mrs. Camp, who was an eye-witness to the affair, and that of the Crowder girl, who was in the kitchen when the shots were fired.

Smallest Man on Force.
Roberts, a veteran member of the Atlanta police force, was described as the smallest man on the entire constabulary. He was jovially called "Fatty" by his comrades who had known him for more than 25 years.

An interesting coincidence to the shooting was brought out at headquarters when some of his companions recollected that barely half an hour before he went out to the Camp cafe he had been discussing "narrow squeaks" in his police career.

"I've had a lot of 'em," he is said to have remarked, "but I've never bothered for help yet."

Camp is described by policemen as having been a man with a fiery temper. Patrolman Dick Englebert said that about a year ago he was trying doors in the vicinity of the Camp cafe and that when he tried the door of the restaurant Camp hurled a pop bottle at him. His wife said that a daughter, Edna, had caused her father's arrest about a year ago as a result of his beating the mother while in a drunken rage. Besides Edna, he is survived by two other daughters, Doris and Betty Joe.

Patrolmen have been selected and all are members of the department. They are: Captain Grover C. Fain, Lieutenant W. P. Reed, Lieutenant C. H. Mitchell, Lieutenant M. A. Hornsby, Patrolman Paul West and Patrolman C. E. Williams.

MORROW PLURALITY MOUNTS TO 299,619

New Jersey Victory Grows, With Only 24 District Reports Missing.

NEWARK, N. J., June 18.—(AP)—Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow's plurality in yesterday's republican state primary for nomination as United States senator, tonight had reached the huge total of 299,619, with 24 scattered districts missing out of the 3,304 in the state. Morrow's margin was unprecedented in the history of senatorial primaries in New Jersey.

The vote tonight stood:
Morrow 417,038
Franklin W. Fort 117,439
Joseph S. Frelinghuysen 47,780

Mr. Morrow ran on a platform advocating repeal of the 18th amendment and return of liquor traffic control to the states. He swept every county in the state, including Somerset and Essex, the respective homes of Frelinghuysen and Fort.

While Mr. Morrow's supporters attributed his overwhelming victory as much to his personal appeal as to his stand on prohibition, Rev. Dr. James K. Shields, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, said the primary returns had done much to encourage the wet.

Dr. Shields issued a statement saying that "whether he willed it or not, Mr. Morrow's statements had made him the natural outstanding leader of wets in New Jersey."

Senator George Expects Bureau Reorganization Measure To Pass Quickly.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18. (Special).—Following a meeting of the finance committee today, Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, announced that an agreement had been reached giving practical assurance that the pending veterans' bureau reorganization bill will be taken up for consideration in the senate tomorrow.

Indications were, he said, that the bill, already passed by the house, will be acted upon favorably and sent to the president for his signature. In taking up the veterans' bill the senate will temporarily lay aside the rivers and harbors bill, resuming consideration of the latter, later on in the week.

3 Die as Lightning Hits Church Building

BUCHAREST, Rumania, June 18. (AP)—A dispatch from Schoarsch near Fagarasch, Transylvania, today said that three persons were killed and six fatally injured when lightning struck a church during a storm there.

Three peasants, frightened by the storm, climbed the church belfry and swung the bells with their hands in signal to the remainder of the crowd to kneel and pray. Just as they knelt lightning struck the belfry and the three were killed.

The church caught fire and six died later of burns. Others were burned badly.

could hardly get about alone, and finally I had to take to my bed for four months. My stomach gave me no end of trouble and nearly everything I ate brought on indigestion. Constipation was the bane of my life—I didn't have a natural bowel movement in over two years and was always dosing myself with laxatives and purgatives.

"Since I took Sargon, every particle of the swelling in my limbs has gone, and I'm actually going up and down the steps and taking long walks every day. I eat with a hearty appetite, and never have any trouble with my stomach."

"Sargon Pills, that I took along with the liquid, are the most normal acting laxative I ever used, and are also the most thorough. I never did dread to take them like I did other laxatives, because they don't shock or weaken; and they've entirely overcome my constipation."

"I'm planning to make a trip to another city now, just to show the rest of my family what this marvelous Sargon has done for me."

The above statement was recently made by Mrs. Sarah Hamby, 2004 32nd Ave. N., Birmingham.

FAMILY DOCTOR MADE MILLIONS OF FRIENDS

Fifteen years after his graduation, Dr. Caldwell became famous for a single prescription, which now, after forty years, is still making friends.

Today Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the world's most popular laxative. Millions of people never think of using anything else when they're constipated, headachy, bilious, feverish or weak; when breath is bad, tongue coated, or they're suffering from nausea, gas, or lack of appetite or energy.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made day according to the original formula, from herbs and other pure ingredients. It is pleasant-tasting, thorough in the most obstinate cases; gentle effective for women and children. Above all, it represents a doctor's choice of what is safe for the bowels.—(adv.)

the northern district of Georgia, announced that a report would be submitted to the full committee for action at its next meeting.

While the chairman of the subcommittee, Senator Hebert, republican, of Rhode Island, declined to say what the report would recommend, indications were that it would unambiguously favor confirmation.

The brief hearing of today came unexpectedly and was given over to testimony of T. A. Wallace, former clerk in the marshal's office, who filed charges against Crawford last week. Wallace showed up at the capitol this morning and stood across the table from the witness while his testimony was being taken.

Wallace in the main was cross-examined by members of the committee on the contents of the voluminous affidavit filed earlier in which he presented general charges against the conduct of the marshal's office.

He denied that he had been summarily dismissed on June 11 by Crawford and said that he had resigned after being informed by the marshal that it would be necessary to ask for the resignation of his wife, whose employment in the same office with her husband had been objected to by the department.

Wallace had no aid. He denied that the affidavit containing the Crawford charges had been prepared in the office of United States District Attorney Clint W. Hager, of Atlanta, in co-operation with Mr. Hager, and Walter Ackerman, of Cartersville, an active candidate for the Crawford post supported by the Rose faction of the republican organization of Georgia. He said he had prepared the document himself without consulting anyone.

Under questioning from Senator Stephens, democratic member of the committee from Mississippi, he admitted, however, that he had talked with Ackerman on the day the affidavit was signed. It was brought out also that the affidavit was witnessed by the notary public in the office of Hager.

District Attorney Hager has also forwarded to the committee a denial of the charge that he had anything to do with the preparation of the charges. Crawford, during his testimony of Monday when he made a sweeping denial of all the charges, stated that he had information the affidavit was prepared in the office of Hager, who has been actively identified with the opposition to his reappointment.

About the only new charge brought before the committee today by Wallace, concerned the alleged diversion of five gallons of peach brandy by the marshal. He had not seen the brandy, but based his charge on the presence of a keg in Crawford's office, which, he said, was being "swelled" with water preparatory to curing the brandy.

Key Still in Office.

Taking the stand later, Crawford told the committee that the key was still in his office and had been empty ever since it was brought there. He asserted that the key had been seized in a raid conducted jointly by his deputies and prohibition agents and brought to the office, "where it has remained ever since, along with a lot of other junk taken in such raids."

Questioned by Chairman Hebert, Wallace maintained that his liquor charges were based almost entirely on hearsay evidence and that he had not personally witnessed the incidents referred to.

"Have you ever seen anything wrong about the handling of funds in that office," he was asked by Senator Hebert.

"Nothing at all," he replied. "Is there anything wrong about the management of the office other than the incidents you have referred to?" "Nothing at all."

Senator Stephens called Wallace's attention to the fact that every witness he had asked to have summoned to support his charges had filed an affidavit denying the allegations and wanted to know what explanation he had to make of this. The witness replied that he understood Crawford had permitted them to support him.

During the hearing the committee read an affidavit from Frank A. Doughman, Atlanta, attorney, denying that he had received favored treatment at the hands of Crawford's marshals in representing clients arrested by the marshal.

Wallace touched only lightly on the additional charge contained in his affidavit, that concerning alleged favoritism of a woman employee of the office. Senator Hebert asked him why he was familiar with all the charges set forth in the affidavit, he had not presented them to department of justice agents at the time an investigation was being made of Crawford's application for reappointment, reminding him that the inquiry had been speeded up over a period of some four months.

Wallace replied that he had not been familiar with the scope of the inquiry until it was over. In response to a question by a member of the committee the former clerk said he had never seen Crawford take a drink of whisky or heard of him drinking, except on a trip to Washington some three years ago when Crawford, he said, complained of having some stomach disturbance and told him he was going out to seek a drink to relieve him. He said also that he had never seen any evidence of drinking on the part of Crawford's marshals.

Harris in Warm Reply To Charges of Slaton

Declares Reports Indicate Former Governor Will Carry Only a Few Counties.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(Special.)—In a statement in which he defended his record as a public official, Senator W. J. Harris today launched a counter attack on former Governor John M. Slaton, who is opposing him for re-election, and wound up by declaring that reports indicate the latter will carry less than a tenth of the counties of the state.

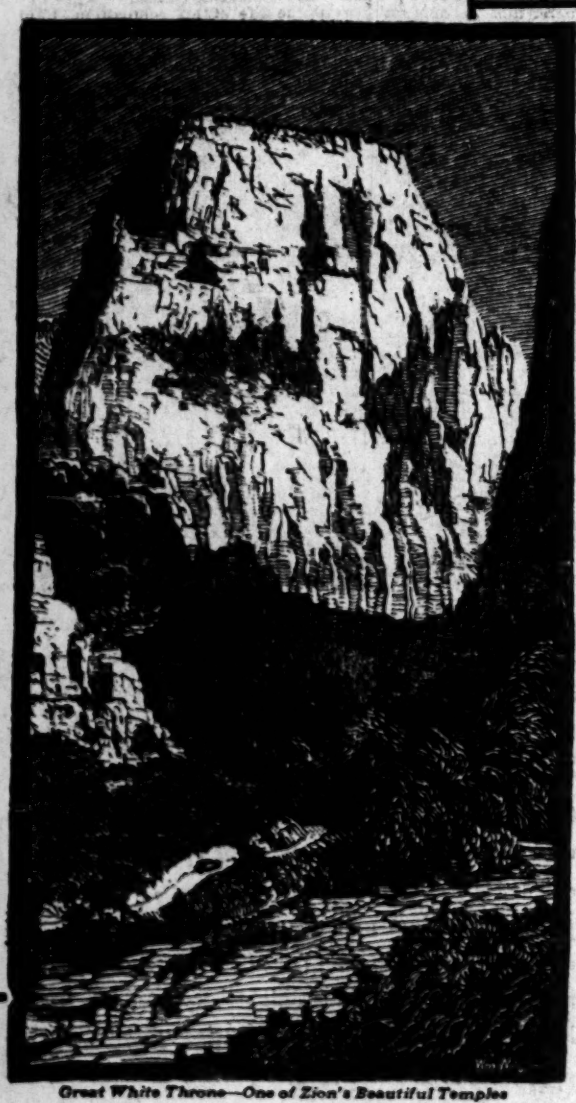

Senator Harris goes at length into the explanation of the reasons governing his vote against the confirmation of Judge Parker, of North Carolina, for the United States supreme court, and charges Slaton with "bringing up the negro question."

support the policies of the Wilson administration, which I did. That was the issue in my first campaign against Mr. Hardwick.

"The League of Nations was embodied in the treaty of peace negotiated with Germany while Mr. Wilson was president, and under world conditions existing at the time this treaty of peace was before the senate for action, I, in common with practically all of the southern senators, voted for its ratification with reservations.

"Mr. Slaton would seem to be unduly exercised about the League of Nations, and experiencing a death of campaign issues when he tries to resurrect it. It certainly will not be voted on again within the next six years, or during the life of either of us, which is well known by Mr. Slaton.

"Mr. Slaton takes me to task for my vote on the World Court. Senator George and I joined in an almost unanimous vote by the senate for adherence to the World Court, with reservations. A resolution favoring the World Court had been previously adopted by the house, and every member of the Georgia delegation present at the time Mr. Slaton was paired, Mr. Wright, Upshaw, Brand, Bell, Larsen and Lankford voted for the resolution. Mr. Slaton was paired, and Mr. Rutherford was absent. The only negative vote was cast by Mr. Moore, of Statesboro.

United States Not Bound.

"Under the reservations adopted by the senate the United States is not bound to submit any matter or question to the court unless the United States voluntarily agrees to do so, and it cannot be forced to do so by any other country. One of the reservations provides that 'membership in the court shall involve no legal relation with the League of Nations.' Any statement to the contrary is deliberately made to deceive the people. These reservations were not acceptable to England and other foreign countries, and, therefore, the United States is not a party to the court.

"When it is remembered that federal expenditures have reached the staggering amount, annually, of approximately four and one-half billion dollars, and that almost three-fourths of this amount is appropriated for the maintenance of our military and naval establishments, and for expenditures resulting from past wars, and when the horrors of war are contemplated, with all of its appalling, demoralizing and destructive consequences, it is well to give most careful consideration to every proposition having for its object the preservation of the peace of the world, and the settlement of international disputes without resort to arms, at the same time scrupulously avoiding any commitments which would involve the United States in political engagements or 'entangling alliances' with other countries, or in the least impair its independence and sovereignty.

"In keeping with this policy I have voted for every treaty of arbitration to prevent war that has been before the senate during the last 12 years, including the so-called Kellogg pact outlawing war, though it is but a gesture. On the other hand, the late Senator Watson, my colleague at the time, and I opposed the five-power naval pact, which, under the guise of a treaty for the limitation of armaments, was in reality, an alliance with England, France, Italy and Japan.

"I have opposed and will continue to oppose sending our American boys to Nicaragua, Mexico or any foreign country to supervise elections or collect debts for Washington.

Discusses Parker Vote.

"Mr. Slaton devotes much effort and space to an attack on my vote against the confirmation of Judge Parker to be a justice of the supreme court.

"That this was purely a political appointment is clearly shown by the letter to President Hoover's secretary from the assistant secretary of the interior, in which letter he is asked to speak as a native born North Carolina republican. North Carolina gave President Hoover 65,000 majority. It is my judgment it carries more hope for future permanent alignment with the republican party than any other of the southern states that broke from their political moorings last year. If the exigencies of the situation permit, I believe the naming of Judge Parker to the supreme court would be a major political stroke.

"However, I voted against the confirmation of Judge Parker because he is not a native born lawyer, and I do not consider he possesses such intellectual and judicial accomplishments, and is of such caliber as to make him a suitable man for this high post at the city of Richmond, Virginia. I am sure the people of Georgia know we are both native Georgians and descended from an honorable line of ancestors who always stood for the best traditions and principles of the south, and especially for white supremacy; and that the people fully realize both of us stand for white supremacy. I concede Mr. Slaton does, even though he did vote against disfranchising the negro, and I am sure no one knows better than that I stand for white supremacy.

Georgia Appropriations.

"In his effort to minimize my work on the appropriations committee, the senate Mr. Slaton refers to the appropriations for Georgia as 'a few paltry thousand dollars,' when as a matter of fact it is well known that in co-operation with my colleague and members of the Georgia delegation in the house I have secured many millions of dollars for worthy objects in Georgia, which the people urged and approved.

"Only the congress can authorize the following appropriations:

in which the people of Georgia are vitally interested:

"Seven-million-dollar loan to farmers, under the Harris amendment, with which to purchase fertilizer, seed and feed; $300,000, under the Harris-Vinson bill, to reimburse the state of Georgia and counties for expenditures in the repair of roads and bridges damaged by floods last year; $85,000, under the Harris-Edwards bill, to stop erosion on Tybee Island; $20,000, under the Harris amendment, for re-establishment of the Sea Island industry in south Georgia; $400,000, under the Harris-Brand bill, for the agricultural college at Athens to pay county agricultural agents; $400,000, under the Harris-Tarver bill, for repair of roads leading from Chickamauga Park in Calhoun and Walker counties.

"Congressman Edwards, member of the house committee on rivers and harbors, and the Georgia delegation secured more for Georgia rivers and harbors this year than ever before. When the bill came to the senate committee, of which I am a member, I not only held all the house items, but had the total appropriation for Georgia rivers and harbors increased by $1,500,000. All Georgia items, including the increase, have passed by the senate.

"The senate has passed my bill providing $100,000 to aid in the control of the dreaded cancer disease. The national forest reservation commission, composed of three of the president's cabinet, Senator Keyser, from the north, and myself, from the south, recently authorized the expenditure of $300,000 for the purchase of land in Georgia.

"I have at all times co-operated with Judge Wright, of Newnan, in securing appropriations for the construction and development of the millage post at Fort Benning near Columbus. Over $15,000,000 has been expended for land and buildings at this post, and in addition, its maintenance being millions of dollars every year to Georgia from the federal treasury. Congressman Vinson and I were largely responsible for the location of a veterans' hospital at Augusta. I also helped in securing the appropriation for the veterans' hospital at Atlanta.

"In addition to the above I have initiated many items amounting to millions for the peach, peanut, pecan, watermelon, hog, tobacco, cotton and other agricultural industries.

"I fully appreciate that our people are heavily burdened with taxation and I have always stood for reduction of government expenditures. I opposed and voted against the tariff bill just passed, which will cause the people to pay unreasonably high prices for every necessity of life.

Cities Influence.

"My activity, long service and important committee assignments enable me to exercise an influence and perform a service for the people of Georgia which would require a new member years to obtain no matter how able he might be.

"It is confidently expected that the next senate will be democratic, in which event my chances, through the rule of seniority, would be excellent to become chairman of the all-powerful appropriations committee.

"Mr. Slaton seems disturbed because people tell him of the efficiency of my office force in replying to letters. A great deal of my time is given to the claims of our soldier boys for compensation and pensions. Certainly their letters should be answered promptly. It is generally known that letters from the humblest citizen are given the most attentive and prompt reply from the influential and well-to-do. No favoritism is shown in my office.

"This matter of letter writing is a plank from the platform of Mr. Hardwick six years ago, and it is a platform so closely resembles Hardwick's that it might well have been written by Mr. Hardwick; in fact, there can be no doubt that it was actually inspired by him.

"Mr. Hardwick carried less than one-tenth of the counties in Georgia in 1924, and reports from all over the state indicate that Mr. Slaton will fare no better, if as well, this year.

"I have always stood for restricted foreign immigration. It developed, however, that under our immigration laws, that 65,000 to 75,000 Mexicans were coming across into the United States each year to work in the cotton fields of Texas and Oklahoma. This cheap labor has greatly increased production and brought down the price of cotton. I introduced a bill, which will limit the number of Mexicans coming over each year to about 12,000, and, although it was fought bitterly by Mr. Legge, the chairman of the farm board, members of the president's cabinet, and others, I succeeded in having the bill passed by the senate.

"Mr. Slaton says nothing about Muscogee Shoals in his announcement. Possibly he will follow his friend and adviser, Mr. Hardwick, in opposing the development of this project to make cheap fertilizers for the farmers.

"There are other very important subjects which Mr. Slaton omits from his platform, including prohibition. He does not tell the people of Georgia how he stands on the 13th amendment and the Volstead act, or their enforcement.

"Expenditures by candidates for election to the senate have been the subject of investigation for some years, and there is now a senate committee for this purpose. In many states it seems that only multi-millionaires can obtain seats in the senate. People have become aroused over this subject, and consider the purchase of a seat in the United States senate a menace, one free institution. Just how much money a candidate should spend is a very acute and live question, and will, no doubt, come before the senate at the next session of congress. For some reason Mr. Slaton is silent on this important question."

Attitude of Negroes.

"While his confirmation as a justice of the supreme court was opposed by some of the negroes in the north, most of the negroes in North Carolina favored him, and during the consideration of his nomination by the senate it was stated in the papers and never denied that he was in constant consultation with negroes, seeking their support. He also addressed a letter to Senator Overman, of North Carolina, to be read before the senate, in which he sought to explain the attitude that had been attributed to him as to white supremacy during his campaign as a candidate on the republican ticket for governor of North Carolina. His explanation was practically an apology for his alleged utterances in reference to the negro in this campaign.

"But why should Mr. Slaton go away from home and his own record to bring up the negro question? When he was in the Georgia legislature in 1901, Mr. Slaton voted against a measure to amend the constitution of Georgia so as to eliminate the ignorant and irresponsible vote. (See page 513-14 Journal of the Georgia house of representatives, 1901.)

"My record on the negro question has been consistent and is well known to the people of Georgia.

"When I was made director of the census, at the beginning of the Wilson administration, I found that negro men were working side by side with white women in that bureau. Under the civil service law I could not discharge these negroes from the bureau. I immediately issued an order absolutely separating the negroes from the white employees. I was the first official to segregate negro employees from white employees in any department in Washington.

"When the negro, Henry Lincoln Johnson, was appointed by President Harding as register of deeds in the District of Columbia, in which department white women were employed, the late Senator Watson was my colleague in the senate, and we defeated Lincoln Johnson's confirmation. Does not Mr. Slaton approve this act of Senator Watson and mine in protecting the white women from having to work under this negro?

"Senator George and I are authors of the resolution which rejected the investigation of the sale of offices by Ben Davis and other negroes in the south. Certainly Mr. Slaton has no objection to what Senator George and I did in this matter.

"In seeking to inject the negro question it would seem Mr. Slaton is almost in a state of desperation to find issues. After what he has said about me on this question and what I say about him, I am sure the people of Georgia know we are both native Georgians and descended from an honorable line of ancestors who always stood for the best traditions and principles of the south, and especially for white supremacy; and that the people fully realize both of us stand for white supremacy. I concede Mr. Slaton does, even though he did vote against disfranchising the negro, and I am sure no one knows better than that I stand for white supremacy.

ATHENS, Ga., June 18.—(P)—The minds of University of Georgia students may be studied through their fingerprints if the schools accepts a recommendation submitted Wednesday to the board of trustees by Governor L. G. Hardman.

The governor, a physician and chairman of the research committee of the trustees, recommended that a department be created at the university for a study of students' fingerprints as they are "related to the mind."

The chief executive said many scientists had shown in experiments that there is a definite relation between fingers and brains, and suggested the fingerprint study in connection with psychological tests.

His recommendation was referred to the university's committee on law and discipline.

Night Church Services May Be Abolished

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., June 18.—Milledgeville ministers are considering the advisability of having evening services on Sunday at only one church instead of at all the churches as heretofore. At present services are held at the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches in the morning, and on account of the fact that night crowds are not as large as morning congregations, it may be thought advisable to have only one service instead of three.

QUITMAN COMMISSION GRANTS GAS FRANCHISE

QUITMAN, Ga., June 18.—At a called meeting the city commission granted a franchise to the Georgia Natural Gas Corporation, providing that when the franchise is accepted the company will post a bond of $3,000 and will begin work within 12 months and complete plant and lines within 18 months.

Similar franchises have been secured in Moultrie, Tifton and other cities and the representatives of the company went to Thomasville for a meeting to present their plans there.

In the event the Quitman franchise is accepted the gas company will install a modern plant here and lines for the manufacture of gas through a new process in which liquid gas shipped in tank cars will undergo certain changes before being distributed. Later as the company secures franchises in this section natural gas will be brought in.

A Member of the Family

Southern Dairies is a worthy member of that great family of Southern industries whose common welfare is the aim of all. Being far the most active worker in the dairy industry in the Southeastern states, it is daily adding to the progress of what is destined to become the greatest single industry of the South.

It is an important member, also of the local business family in every city where it maintains an extensive plant, and in every town where its products are supplied, because it is working daily for the financial advantage and the health of the whole family.

There has been a large investment of capital to establish this great work, running into millions. A very moderate interest return is demanded on this investment—less than would be necessary were the investments smaller and scattered.

Other millions are spent annually, distributed through this wide territory for milk and cream, in pay-rolls and deliveries; and Southern Dairies organization is busy the year round, through its sales force and advertising, securing the widest possible market for these products, to insure steady demand.

Southern Dairies is not only a worthy member of the family—it is an extremely active and healthy member of the family.

CAPITAL CITY CLUB TO OPEN ROOF GARDEN JUNE 26.

Fourth of July Celebration To Be Held at Brookhaven

Capital City Club announces the formal summer opening of the roof garden to take place Thursday, June 26, with the annual dinner and dance. This attractive club, and its associate country club, Brookhaven, is a popular rendezvous of Atlanta society and the opening of the roof garden is always eagerly anticipated.

During the summer months the roof garden simulates a real garden, with its boxes of bright-colored flowers and greenery and ferns forming a border about the building. It presents a delightfully cool and comfortable place in which to informally enjoy the festivities of the warm months.

Inaugurating a new policy, the Capital City Club will alternate dinner dances, on Thursday during the summer, between the town club and the country club. Beginning Thursday, July 3, they will be held every other Thursday at Brookhaven, and beginning with the opening of the roof garden a week from today, dances will be held every alternate Thursday at the Capital City Club. The annual Fourth of July party will take place Thursday, July 3, at Brookhaven. Another new event of the clubs will be the Sunday concerts which will be held from 4 to 6 o'clock at Brookhaven and from 7 to 9 o'clock on the roof garden.

Officers of the club are: President, W. C. Wardlaw; vice president, Charles P. Nunnally; secretary and treasurer, W. T. Perkins; directors, Milton Dargatz, Jr., James D. Robinson, L. W. Robert, Jr., Baxter Maddox, Albert E. Thornton, Albert Howell, R. W. Woodruff, R. H. White, Jr., George W. McCarty, Jr.

An interesting item on the social calendar is the luncheon to be given by Georgia Society, United Daughters of 1812, in the banquet hall of the Atlanta Women's Club, celebrating the twenty-ninth anniversary of the year of the founding of the state society. Mrs. Moreland Speer is chairman of arrangements.

Proceeding the luncheon the annual meeting will be held at 11:30 o'clock in the palm room of the club with the state president, Mrs. James Drake Weaver, of Dawson, presiding. The occasion will assemble many prominent Georgia women and is anticipated as an outstanding social event in patriotic circles.

Legare Davis Writes Story For Holland's Magazine

Legare Davis, well-known Atlantan, of 777 Vedado way, has in the July issue of Holland's Magazine a clever, realistic story, "Sweet Charity," the tale of an old southern negro who is an uncanny foodness for his mule. The story, which is Mr. Davis' first real literary effort, was written at "Hoot's Owl Farm," 10 miles from Atlanta, which in his own words, his friends call a farm and his former neighbors insist is a summer home.

From "Among those Present" in Holland's something is learned of Mr. Davis from his own pen. "To begin with," he writes, "I have a habit of writing to say that my first name is pronounced as though it were spelled 'Legree,' and that my nickname is 'Simon.' I was born in Monticello, Ga., (a sort of habit in the family since my great-grandfather). You see how easily I slip past the questions of my age. But it is a matter of record that it was in 1912 when Emory college, now Emory University, with none too much enthusiasm made me a Ph. D."

The loyalty of an old negro to his "white folks," and his love for his own when it amounts to no more than the memory of a wife and a feeble old mule, make the story one of irresistible appeal. It is evident that Mr. Davis knows the southern negro for the story is full of exquisite detail, offering perfect and intimate pictures of the old man in his cabin, feeding his horse, or driving along the country road where the old nag stops or goes ahead in accordance with his own feelings. The plot reflects the author's clear understanding of the short story structure. Suspense is well maintained and a series of "twists" precede the surprise at the end of the story when "Sweet Charity" comes to the old negro "for to carry him home."

Healthiest!

"My little daughter is about the healthiest girl I know," says Mrs. A. E. Waters, 2225 Twenty-fifth St., Birmingham. "And I want to give credit where it is due."

"Bertha was constipated several years ago and I gave her California Fig Syrup. It helped her so wonderfully that I have used it ever since for all her upsets or colds. It has kept her strong, energetic, rugged. Children suffer when bowels aren't regular. Bowels become fetid; tongue coated; eyes dull. When these symptoms are neglected, biliousness, feverishness, lack of appetite invariably follow."

The first dose of California Fig Syrup relieves these symptoms and activates sluggish bowels. Successive doses help tone and strengthen weak bowels; improve appetite; encourage digestion and assimilation. Try it with a bilious, headachy, constipated child and see how it helps!

The pure vegetable product, endorsed by doctors for 40 years, always bears the name California. So look for it when buying—(adv.)

The bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Robert M. McGregor, of Birmingham. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin, trimmed with duchesse lace, made princess style. The waist was very light-fitting, and the skirt hung in graceful uneven folds to the floor. Her veil was of white tulle with a real lace cap shaped around the face, caught at the back with orange blossoms. Orange blossoms were artistically caught at intervals in the tulle veil. She carried a bouquet of white bride's roses showered with lilies of the valley.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Northcutt entertained at an informal reception, and in the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Northcutt were the bride and groom, members of the wedding party and the groom's mother, Mrs. Charles B. Cook, of Birmingham.

The matron of honor, Mrs. H. R. Paris, of Birmingham, wore a pale pink satin dress, trimmed in tulle of a deeper shade of pink. It was fashioned princess style and reached the floor. Her slippers were of pink satin and she carried an arm bouquet of Briarcliff roses.

MEMPHIS WINS SECOND GAME OF SERIES, 13-6

Two Atlanta Hurlers Fail To Halt Chicks. Five Errors Made.

By Ed Danforth.

Walter Beck, a mild mannered young pitcher man, reappeared like a warm-over biscuit yesterday to give the Crackers baseball indigestion. Walter worked for Chattanooga last year and was an abdominal pain to the Crackers all season.

Then Walter turned up yesterday in a Memphis uniform, indigestible as ever. He coasted along a 13-to-6 victory in the second game of the series without pitching away all his sidearm curve balls.

HITTERS ALL TANGLED.

Beck and the best Cracker hitters all tangled up into left hand bats. Now and then he permitted a base hit or passed a Cracker to first when two were out, but until his boy friends had given him a big lead he did not let the home nine get anywhere. Walter took it easy in the sixth, seventh and ninth and generally allowed several of the home nine keep the old batting average up to standard. Otherwise he was no banquet.

The Crackers still were groggy from the effects of their wild scrambling about last week in those ten-inning games and doubleheaders. They played like three athletes playing when they tried to hustle they botched their chances.

The pitching staff apparently is burned out; three-day soon wrecks any set of chinkers. That is the most liberal view to take, but the crowd yesterday simply looked at the scoreboard and raised the old wolf howl for the first time this year.

SAM ANGERED.

The howling grew so caustic and personal in the seventh that it got Langford's goat, as they say. He paused at the plate long enough to shake an angry finger at his tormentor and then banged one away for two bases. That started one of those rallies.

The Chicks went into action with Prothro and Jeanes, their two suspended athletes, restored to duty.

Frank Waddy was given a rest on the bench and young Daughtry sent into left field. It seems that Daughtry's father was here from away off and naturally wanted to see son play. Son did extremely well and gave one and all a thrill when he went back in the fourth inning to collect Luke Appling's long drive with one hand.

The Crackers might have kept in the ball game for a while but they began booting them in the pinches. Errors figured in the first four runs the Chicks scored. The old Dumovich weakened and the Chicks began banging the ball for extra bases and the Chicks pulled away too far to be caught.

STARLING INEFFECTIVE. Hugh Starling relieved Dumovich and the hitting continued. Apparently there is not a pitcher left in the Cracker dugout who is ready to go nine innings. Three-day will do that.

Brazil and Prothro batted in five of the six runs between them. Jack Sheehan drove three Crackers across.

It looks as if Red Oldham, the canny southpaw, is the man who will be called on today to check the Chicks and put the Crackers back into a winning stride.

The Chicks, incidentally are here the rest of the week and seem to be in fine shape. Too bad the Crackers did not catch them when the Prothro folks were feeling poorly.

BOAT AGAIN HALTED.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 18.—(AP)—The scheduled 12-round bout between Tommy Freeman, of Cleveland, and Sergeant Sammy Baker, of New York, was called off today when rain made a third postponement necessary.

Young Stribling is in one uncomfortable corner right now. He fights Otto Von Porat Friday night in Chicago and has but one hand to use. And Otto Von Porat is the hardest puncher in the heavyweight division right now.

Stribling has experienced another one of those breaks certain to be misunderstood by ring fans. This one may go very hard indeed with his chances, too. Those of a certain mentality know of course that Stribling never really hurt the paw; that it was just an excuse to get out of fighting Von Porat.

This argument is wrong because (1) Stribling's left hand is seriously swollen and blue and (2) because any time Pa Stribling tries to get out of a fight that will net him about $20,000 in American money, you can expect Macon to slip quietly into the river and float down to the sea.

Pressure apparently was brought to bear on Pa to go through with the fight on a minimum postponement instead of the two weeks Pa asked. Under the circumstances I would hate to have a nickel on W. L. to win.

CARRIED IT TO NEW YORK.

When Pa and W. L. were in New York the left mitt was the subject of grave concern. It plainly was swollen and discolored from a torn ligament. Obviously the boy should have done no boxing for at least two weeks.

Nate Lewis, the matchmaker for the stadium, also was in New York and was willing to postpone the fight until June 30.

When the Striblings returned to Chicago it was with the idea that W. L. would go under the care of the Illinois commission doctor and get his hand cured.

The boy can fight with it, after a fashion—if he deadens it by "freezing" or by a local anesthetic. But he cannot possibly fight his best.

ANOTHER TIME.

Just before the historic struggle in Miami Beach with Jack Sharkey, Stribling pulled a muscle in his back loose from the spine and it practically nullified his left arm.

This statement of course was hooted at the time and probably should not have been mentioned again save that I am like the blind mule when it comes to the Georgia fighter; I have a high opinion of his inherent ability and do not hesitate to say so.

Furthermore, I cheerfully call attention to that break that cost him his best effort against Sharkey and tie it up with this strange fatality that dogs his major efforts.

EVERYTHING TO LOSE.

Against Von Porat Friday night, Stribling has everything to gain and plenty to lose. A poor fight simply would murder his chances of keeping on in big time boxing; a defeat would hurt but might be a better fate than an enforced defensive battle.

Under the circumstances—fighting with one hand—Stribling will have to sail in and pump his right hand over time and again trying for an early knockout or slip into a safety first scrap that would be worse than a licking.

The best place to watch the Stribling-Von Porat fight is in Atlanta if you have the interest of the Georgia boxer at heart. I watched him fight ONE one-handed fight; never again; it wears the watcher down to a nub.

KING JEEM LONDOS.

Jimmy Londos, idol of the restaurant wing, is coming into town today with the wrestling championship of the world on his shoulders. He will meet Frank Judson at the ball park tonight in the first defense of his title.

Jimmy will win, unless something goes wrong with his plans. But how he will perform with the burden of a title on his spirit will be interesting to watch.

The Greek colony will be out to the last man and woman. And Atlantans who have seen Jimmy work time and again as the carefree private in the front rank had nothing to worry about and could afford to take wild chances with his men will be out, too, to see Jeem in a new position.

BERRIEN MOORE SPRINGS UPSET AT SEDGEFIELD

Young Atlantan Beats Dann, Medalist in Dixie Meet, 3 and 2.

By Dillon Graham.

Associated Press Sports Writer. SEDGEFIELD COUNTRY CLUB, GREENSBORO, N. C., June 18.—(AP)—Giant killers in the form of unheralded youngsters, stalked over the Country Club course here today in the first round of match play in the southern amateur golf championship and when their slaughter was complete, five favored linksmen lay by the bunkers while the youths marched onward toward the title.

The biggest upheaval was wrought by Berrien Moore, the slight blonde golfer from Atlanta, who shot sensational golf all the way to eliminate yesterday's medalist, Carl Dann, Jr., of Orlando, Fla., whose 68 in the qualifying round established a new course record.

The 17-year-old Atlantan defeated Dann 3 and 2 by sinking short nubs for birdies on the 15th and 16th holes.

The second upset of the day came as the 15-year-old Shelby, N. C. star, Fred Webb disposed of Alan Smith, Asheville semi-finalist last year, 3 and 1.

TWO BIG GUNS FALL.

Two of the strongest hopes of the entertaining Sedgefield Club met disaster at the hands of opponents they were doped to defeat. W. F. Deuschle, Winston-Salem, loomed as a dangerous threat by whipping the vaunted Johnny Bachman, 3 and 2, while John Thames, of Birmingham, administered a 1-up defeat to W. J. Palmer after a ding-dong battle which went to the 19th green.

In the most extended match of the day F. C. Dudley, Athens, Ga., beat Julius Hughes, Atlanta, 5 and 3. The latter won from Hugh Carter, also from Atlanta, by default.

Emmett Spicer, the Memphis ace who won the title in 1929 and was medalist last year, had another hard battle today before winning. Yesterday he barely qualified with a high 79 and today was forced to play 10 holes before eking out a 1-up verdict over the tow-headed Erwin Laxton, of Charlotte.

NUNNALLY BEATEN.

In addition to Spicer, Memphis placed two other golfers in the top flight as Chasteen Harris turned back Hugh Nunnally, of Atlanta, 5 and 3. The latter won from Hugh Carter, also from Atlanta, by default.

With Bachman and Palmer out, Sedgefield looked to Tully Blair, Carolinas champion, to win the crown left undefended by Sam Perry, of Birmingham. Blair turned in the most lopsided score of the day in trouncing Jack Hardie, of Greensboro, 9 and 7.

Wilbur Oakes, Chattanooga sharpshooter whose 72 yesterday gave him runner-up honors in the qualifying round, met a worthy opponent in Billie McWilliams, of Rome, Ga., and had tough sledding to gain a one-up decision.

RAINWATER LOSER.

Earl M. Stokes, the lone Kentucky threat, from Louisville, put out the veteran C. V. Rainwater, of Atlanta, 2 up, while Jack Heath, young ace from Charlotte, won from Robert Chambers, of Atlanta, 3 and 2.

J. L. Bruney, Knoxville, Tenn., took a close match from Kenan Smith, of Raleigh, 1 up; Dick Wilson, Pinehurst, defeated Fred Newnam, Greensboro, by the same score; A. C. McManus, Greensboro, had an easy time with H. M. Woodward, of Birmingham, winning 8 and 7, and W. J. O'Connor, of Durham, beat Ed Reid, of Charlotte, 7 up.

In the first round matches in the championship flight tomorrow Moore, now set up as a real contender, meets Dudley; Spicer plays Wilson; Blair faces Bruney, and Deuschle meets Heath.

Other top flight pairings follow: T. J. White, Memphis, vs. W. J. O'Connor, Durham. Earl Stokes, Louisville, vs. John Thames, Birmingham. Fred Webb, Shelby, N. C., vs. Chasteen Harris, Memphis. Wilbur Oakes, Chattanooga, vs. A. C. McManus, Greensboro.

Resolution To End Service Row Made

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP)—A resolution providing for immediate resumption of athletic relations between West Point and Annapolis, severed a few years ago by Army because of differences between the service schools over football eligibility rules, was introduced today by Representative Blanton, democrat, Texas.

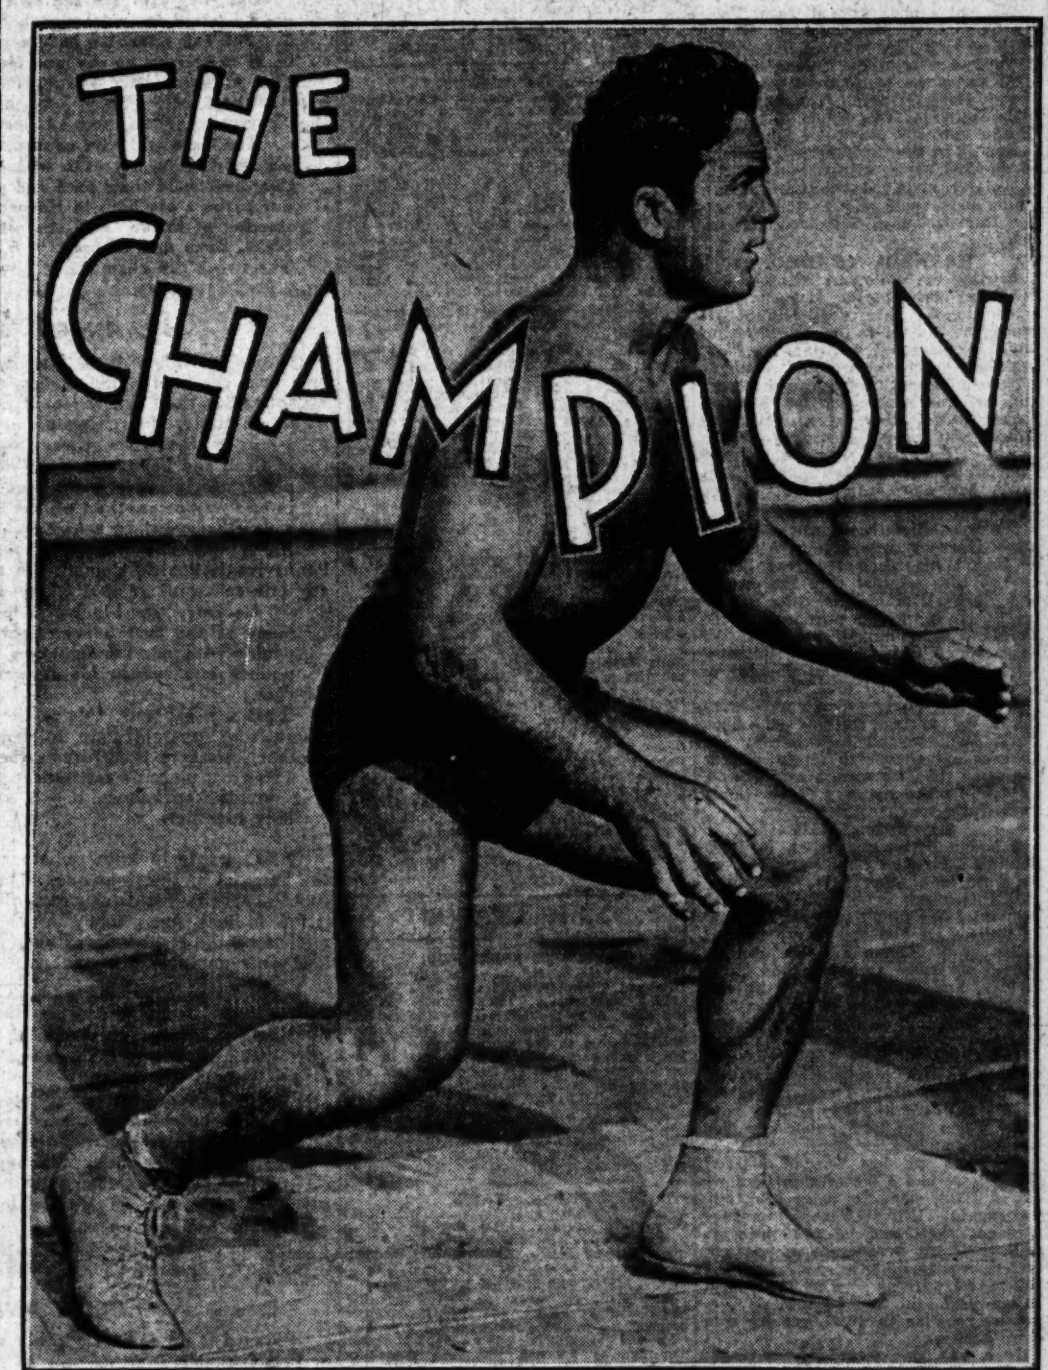

The resolution, which was referred to the house military affairs committee, would direct the superintendents of the respective schools to negotiate a reconciliation "governed by such rules and practices as may be in force with substantial uniformity among colleges and universities of the first class in the United States."

The academy superintendents have attempted several times to bring about an amicable settlement of athletic differences but to date have reached no agreement.

Defends Crown at Spiller's Tonight

"Thees Jeem" Londos, who took the world's heavyweight wrestling title from Dick Shikat in Philadelphia recently, will defend his laurels for the first time when he takes on Frank Judson at Spiller field in an open air match tonight. PAULINO, RISKO BATTLE TONIGHT

"Woodchopper" Seeks To Even Count; Both Eye Max Bout.

DETROIT, June 18.—(AP)—More evenly matched than any other two fighters of prominence in the heavy-weight division, Paulino Lucandun and Johnny Risko, will clash tomorrow night at Navin field in their second encounter of record.

Risko was awarded the decision in that first meeting, but the Basque "woodchopper" and his followers protest that decision to this day. Risko will have probably a two-pound advantage in weight. The unofficial weights were announced today as Risko, 194; Lucandun, 192. Each fighter views tomorrow night's bout as the first step in a campaign to meet Max Schmeling in a title bout.

Probe of Cagle's Contract Urged

MERIDIAN, Miss., June 18.—(AP) In advance of the meeting of the state board of trustees at Jackson today, sports editor of The Meridian Star, today said in his sports column that Hugh Critz, newly elected president of A. and M., favored a full and impartial investigation of the contract.

Mr. Critz said that he had no comment to make on the contract's status at present.

Walters revived rumors that some opposition had arisen among A. and M. alumni to execution of the contract over Cagle's ineligibility at West Point because of his secret marriage. Certain of the alumni, he said, planned to carry this point before the trustees' meeting.

Dr. M. B. Walker, the retiring president, in a defense of Cagle, declared that "the contract did not say whether he was to be single or married, or to have 10 children."

"About six alumni at their annual meeting recently held in Starkville," said Dr. Walker, "had raised the question of suitability of Cagle, but when I asked every one of the alumni who had gone through four years of college and had not broken any of the regulations to raise his hand, every one laughed instead and that ended the controversy."

"It would be difficult to damn Cagle for having committed the offense of marrying a beautiful and lovable Louisiana girl."

Ray McRoy, of the Yankees, threw a baseball at the speed of 150 feet per second in a test at West Point.

Londos Defends Title Against Frank Judson

Former Coach Meets New Champion Under Electric Lights at Ball Park Tonight.

Jim Londos, the greatest wrestler in the world today, will defend his recently-acquired title tonight at Spiller field with Frank Judson, former Harvard wrestling coach and a capable man, as his opponent. The match, headlining the greatest card ever offered in Atlanta, will positively be held. The weather reports indicate that the night will be a fine cool one with no hint of bad weather. In the event of bad weather the match will be held at the auditorium. No such move is anticipated, however, and all is in readiness to put the match on at the ball park as scheduled.

Judson has appeared here in several matches. He is credited with being the first to develop the "air-plane spin" hold. It is to wrestlers on whom it is obtained what a tail spin is to an airplane—very hard to get out of and likely to bring disaster.

The ex-Harvard coach is also master of all the holds in the game. He is especially adept at arm holds including the hammerlock and the punishing grapevine hold.

Judson is larger than Londos, outweighing him a matter of some 10 pounds. He is expected to give the champion a much better match than any man who has met him here before. He is easily the best wrestler London has met here this season.

"I will promise the fans that they will see me giving all I have," said Judson. "I am going to go after Londos because he can be beaten. Naturally I'd like to be the man to do it. So far as I am concerned there will be action all the way."

This match does not have to be recommended to Atlanta mat fans. They have seen both men in action already and know that both will be better than ever tonight. Londos is a champion, and proud of it. Judson will be extended here for the first time. Heretofore he has had comparatively easy victories.

The main bout will be a two-hour limit match, Police Gazette rules governing. It will be followed by a one-hour match in which two other heavyweights, well over 200 pounds, will appear.

George Tragos, the hard-boiled Greek, will meet Nansens Poggi, new Italian sensation. Poggi has never appeared here. He was obtained by Weber at the request of many fans who wanted to see Tragos lose a beating. Poggi is expected to prove all he is looking for although there is no favorite in the match.

A short preliminary will open the program at 8:15 o'clock tonight. There are comparatively few ring-side seats left and fans may obtain them today from the Chandler building soda fountain or at the Piedmont haters. There is no increase in prices and ladies may obtain any seat for 75 cents. Promoter Weber has a fine crowd at all his matches, many female fans attending. It is getting to be quite the thing to take the girl friend out to see the big fellows in action.

ATLANTA STAR IN 3-WAY TIE FOR EARLY LEAD

"Calamity Jane" Fails Master on First Round of Play.

By Bernard Darwin.

British Golf Expert.

(Copyright, 1930, for The Constitution by the North American Newspaper Alliance.) Hoylake, England, June 18.—Bobby Jones made what I should characterize as a perfect start, judged from his point of view, in the contest for the British open championship, the first round of which was played here today.

Bobby began with 70, and it might just as well have been 66. I believe it is much better for him not to lead by too many shots to start with, and that the round today was in fact right sort to give him confidence. That, I think, he lacked a little. Indeed, he told a great friend of his, who told me, that he never started a tournament with less confidence than he has this one, and that he does not know where on earth the ball is going after he hits it.

Well, I must take his word for it, but if it were so today then he was the only man on the course who did not know. All the rest of us knew precisely where his ball was going—namely, straight down the fairway. The only real question was whether or not it was going into the hole with his first putt, and the rule is that it is not. He putted well, but the ball would not quite drop as he wanted it to drop. If it had, heaven alone knows what score he might have had.

Admittedly, Bobby did not look happy to begin with when his putts hung on the lip. His face wore the expression which said, "This hole of golf do not mean me to hole them." Gradually, however, he came to look and feel more cheerful, and I fancy he finished feeling reasonably happy.

BOBBY UPSET BY FAN.

Bobby's first hole was not auspicious. Just as he was going to drive, some idiot clicked his camera at him, and Bobby had to walk around like a caged lion and start again. The result was a pushed drive into a sandy ditch and a hard won five. At the second hole, his putts were in and out and this was only one of several illustrations of the fact that, in Bobby's own words, he never putted better and seldom more nervously. Another five came at the third, when Bobby's splendid spoon shot, just too strong, landed his ball in the rough grass.

But this sort of thing could not be allowed to go on, and Bobby saw to it that it did not. He began to reel off one par hole after another and took a bit of help to help him and most of his short putts being knocked in backhand.

Bobby was out in 36, which is good, if not overpowered. At the 10th, at last, he holed a beautiful putt six yards down hill for a three at the 10th. At the 12th, he played a thoroughly crooked approach shot, but he soon came back with a magnificent drive again. All those long last five holes he played superbly. One of them cost him five when his putt was unlucky, but he holed the hole one long one for a three at the 17th hole.

GLORIOUS EXAMPLE.

He made the round in 70, and it was a glorious example of how Bobby Jones can do it. He has not yet made himself justice yet can make a better score than any one else.

So much for Bobby and now for some of the other players. The poor George Von Elm had a major tragedy, and great golfer though he is, I fancy one must almost wonder why he took 74 and I cannot see him give a start of 11 strokes to Jones.

Von Elm began with a 4 and two 5s. He then played the worst iron shot I have ever seen at Hoylake, and got two at the 4th. This was perfectly satisfactory and then, at a hole of no obvious terrors, he took a shabby devastating 9. His second shot was hooked into a bunker close to the green. He lay badly, but still I have a notion that Walter Hagen would have done better than that.

HE CARDS NINE.

But Von Elm failed to get out; failed a second time, and then succeeded. After two weeks of getting out over the green into the rough grass. There again he remained for some time. The final result was that he ended in six at the 9th hole, thus the coping stone on his misfortunes.

Leo Diegel was not far behind Bobby, though his score, 74, was rather sketchily obtained. Leo did not seem to be able to settle down in his wooden club play and was ranging changes on his driver and brassie without really liking either of them. Horton Smith had a good steady reassuring start with 72.

Meanwhile, some of the British players had done reasonably well. Fred Robson, not so young as he used to be, but a fine, graceful golfer, had 73, marked by admirable holding out. Mitchell, a minor disaster, ending in six at the 9th hole, thus the coping stone on his misfortunes.

Leo Diegel was not far behind Bobby, though his score, 74, was rather sketchily obtained. Leo did not

JACKET FLASH LEAVES SUNDAY WITH 4 MATES

Nine Meets Are Scheduled for Month's Trip Through Europe.

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP)—A team of five star athletes was named today by the Amateur Athletic Union to compete in a series of international track and field meets abroad this summer.

The men selected were: Stephen Anderson, University of Washington; Tom Warner, Northwestern University; George Bullwinkle, City College of New York; Reg Bowen, University of Pittsburgh; and Ed Hamm, Georgia Tech.

LEAVE SUNDAY. The team will sail Sunday on the Berengaria and is to compete in nine meets in Germany, Norway, Sweden and Finland.

The schedule follows: July 2, Cologne, Germany; July 4, Dusseldorf; July 6, Duisburg; July 9, Berlin; July 12, Oslo, Norway; July 16, Eskilstuna, Sweden; July 21-22, Stockholm; July 24, Helsingfors, Finland; July 26, Abo, Finland.

Abo is the home town of Paavo Nurmi and the stop there was scheduled at the famous Finn's special request.

The team is to sail for home on July 26, arriving in plenty of time to compete in the national A. A. U. championships at Pittsburgh, August 22, 23 and 25.

In addition to the five men named to represent the United States, Paul Voncken, a University of Washington sprinter, asked and received permission to make the trip at his own expense and to compete.

HARVARD STAR. Paul Voncken, Harvard hammer thrower, also may join the other Americans abroad on his own initiative. The men selected constitute a powerful team that rates with the best in the world in the hurdles, pole vault, broad jump and running events up to the mile.

Anderson, an Olympic veteran and present national collegiate A. A. U. champion, tied the world's record in winning the title a few days ago and is equally formidable in the low hurdles.

Warne won the N. C. A. A. title in the pole vault and Bowen in the quarter-mile. Bullwinkle, the new intercollegiate A. A. U. mile champion, is the latest mile-running sensation and also a half-mile of ability.

Hamm is the Olympic broad-jumper, champion and both he and Bowen have considerable ability as sprinters in addition to their specialties.

After running down a long putt for a birdie 3 on the 410-yard 10th and shooting a par 3 on the 11th, Bobby found a trap on the 401-yard 12th and went one over par with a 5. He evened the count with a birdie 4 on the 511-yard 14th, after missing a 12-foot putt for an eagle 3.

Bobby went one over par for the third and last time during the day when it required a 5 for the 443-yard 15th. He made another bid for an his looks the best. He led with three fours in order and it looked as if he were going to do a 78, break the record and lead Bobby. It was a little too much for him. He got into three bunkers before he finished and did well to get a 70, tying with Bobby.

The tie thus became a triple one. MacDonald Smith, playing as perfectly as he did yesterday, also got 70.

Huge Gallery Follows Jones.

Dull skies, carrying a distinct threat of rain, greeted Jones and the others as the first round got under way.

A gallery of 2,000 or more trailed the Atlanta as he went to the first tee. He started nervously, broke his stance when something distracted his attention, took a walk around the tee ground and tried again. He cut the corner of the dog-leg start too close and found a bunker. His third went just off the green to the left.

He chipped well and took five on the par four hole.

Jones played his second from the rough at the second hole, but got his ball just off the green to the left.

At the third he was down in par five, taking three of them from the edge of the green.

He got his par three easily at the 4th. He just missed a birdie three at the 5th, where his 20-foot putt hung on the very edge of the cup.

Jones got his par four at the 6th. He was down in three at the 7th, his putt for a two just twisting out of the cup.

The Atlanta scored a birdie four at the long 8th.

He was down in par four at the 9th.

Bobby holed a 25-footer down an incline for a birdie three at the 10th. He failed to reach the green at the short Alps 11th, but chipped almost dead for his par three.

Playing his second shot safely to the 12th, where he was bunkered the other day for six, he went for the other side of the green too strongly, chipped inaccurately and took five on the par four hole.

He got his par three at the 13th. He holed a birdie four at the 14th.

Jones holed his drive to the 15th and sent his brassie into a bunker. His long putt for a four hung on the lip of the cup and he took five.

He found rough at the 16th, played a great brassie hole high, and two putted from seven feet for a four.

Bobby holed an 18-foot putt for a birdie three at the 17th.

He got a par four at the home hole to score 70.

The missed putt angered the Atlanta and he walked toward George Von Elm, who was following the play, and bent his putter over his knee, signifying his disgust at lipping the cup.

A 21-foot putt gave Bobby another birdie on the 17th and he barely missed a 90-footer for a birdie on the 18th.

PRIMO FACES HARDEST BOUT OF CAMPAIGN

Godfrey May Give Giant Rough Time Monday in Philly.

By Walter Trumbull.

NEW YORK, June 18.—The Primo Carnera-Godfrey bout in Philadelphia, Monday night, promises to be a social, if not an artistic success. It may be both.

James I. Bush, of New York, is lining up some of Madison Square Garden's 600 millionaires and expects to take a car load of them on the Philly pilgrimage, and naturally the Quaker City's home smart set will turn out.

It looks as if Primo and George might make a big improvement on Ward McAllister's 400, raising it to 40,000.

Among the absent will be Frank Bruen. Mr. Bruen wants to go but is forced to send his regrets, because Campolo is boxing on Monday evening at the Boston Garden.

CAMPOLLO LIKED. It may be said, without contradiction, that to many persons Campolo appears the most promising fighter now in the glove business. He has a right hand which is a right hand, and he is learning what to do with his left.

If Vittorio Campolo ever learns to use a right uppercut in close, he is going to hit somebody in the back row with an opponent's head.

The Carnera-Godfrey match naturally is creating interest. All wish to know whether the big and good natured George will arrive at the ring in handcuffs. Will Godfrey wrap the drape of his bath towel about him and lie down to pleasant dreams?

There has been treated roughly by at least two colored men, who were neither as large nor as able as Godfrey, he has improved so marvelously in the course of a few months? Perhaps he has.

GREAT BOUT. It should be a great bout. I should not be surprised to see some fast slugging with several knockdowns, and a thrilling finish.

I cannot quite picture Carnera as defeated. A draw might be an artistic thing, if the battle was furious enough. But Carnera has not yet quite got into the big money, and this is the bout to get him there. Those behind Primo would not wish anything unpleasant to happen to him.

Among Carnera's stockholders are some very deep thinkers and fast movers.

It is told of Rodyard Kipling that once, leaving for a tour around the world, he had so worked out his schedule that he said to the cabby, who took him from his home to the station:

"I want you to be here seven months and four days from today, at 3:15 p. m., to drive me home."

The cabby was there and Mr. Kipling stepped off the train at the appointed moment.

Carnera's handlers are said to be just that systematic. They plan everything in advance.

Of course, it may be that instead of meeting George, Primo may run into Godfrey, a giant negro, with a left hook that could shake the city hall. In that case, the French army is likely to get its missing recruit, if it can catch him on the fly.

The Japan-Italy tie, to be played July 11, 12, 13, looks like a toss-up.

ATLANTA NEWS

AT CANDLER FIELD

A meeting of the committee appointed last week to work out a plan of organization for the proposed association, to be composed of air corps reserve officers here, was held Wednesday night in the office of Major H. K. Greene, of the coast artillery, head of organized reserve corps in this territory. The committee, composed of F. T. Hughes, chairman, and Lee Sanders and Frank E. Dill, both of Gulf Coast Airways, decided that the meeting would be held every two weeks and that membership would not be confined to air corps reserve officers but would be extended to others interested in aviation, these associate members to be selected as the association deems best.

Election of officers, selection of a name for the new organization and appointment of standing committees may take place at the next meeting of the entire group, set for Wednesday night, Etilled following the session of the committee. In addition to the business matters which are scheduled to come before the meeting, Orlan Porter, chief mechanic for the Bivins Aircraft Corporation, is slated for an address, probably on his adventures while a member of Sir Hubert Wilkins' expeditions to Alaska and the south pole. Atlanta-Fort Worth Service Launched by Delta Airlines

Passenger Line, With Headquarters at Monroe, La., Will Operate Here on Daily Schedule.

After operating here on a tentative basis since June 11, Delta Airlines, which operates air passenger line between Birmingham, Dallas and Fort Worth, Tex., Wednesday officially launched its Atlanta-Fort Worth service.

J. S. Fox, traffic manager of the company, with headquarters at Monroe, La., was here Tuesday and Wednesday making final arrangements for the opening and will return to his Monroe office today.

Flights will leave Atlanta at 8 o'clock each morning, arrive at Birmingham at 9:30 o'clock and at Fort Worth at 5:45 o'clock in the afternoon. Returning, a plane will leave Fort Worth at 6:00 o'clock in the morning, arrive at Birmingham at 4:30 in the afternoon and Atlanta at 6 o'clock in the afternoon. Fares will be figured on a basis of one cent a mile, which will make the tariff $0.94 between here and Birmingham, considerably lower than air rates for the same distance heretofore in effect.

Atlanta's growing demand for increased aerial passenger facilities was Delta's only reason in coming into this city, it was pointed out by Mr. Fox, who declared that his company had no intention of running competi-

Johnson in Radio Speech Terms Treaty Un-American

California Republican Says Pact Robs U. S. of What We Thought Was Obtained in 1922 Parley.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP)—The London naval treaty was assailed as "un-American" by Senator Johnson, Republican, California, in a radio address tonight demanding rejection of the pact now before the senate.

"It robs us of that which we thought by agreement had been obtained in 1922," asserted the Californian. "It may imperil our marvellously growing commerce, now equaling that of any nation on earth, and endangers even our national defense, and all the boasted utterances concerning parity it yields us only inferiority."

Speaking over a nation-wide hook-up of the Columbia Broadcasting System under the auspices of the Washington Star, Senator Johnson, in a detailed analysis of the London treaty and listed seven objections.

He referred pointedly to the speech in behalf of the treaty made over the Sam radio hook-up a week ago by Secretary Stimson. He remarked on the "angry intolerance displayed" by the distinguished secretary of state in indulging in platitudinous generalities and omitting detailed explanation of the treaty.

"To say that the London treaty has the sanction of one man or another," said Johnson, "to lead to the senate that two of its members have participated in its negotiation, is to state no reasons for its ratification."

"The secretary of state suggests the 'warriors' of all nations are attacking the treaty and he treats it as a mere press dispatch that some unfortunate officers in Japan committed suicide because of it. As an argument this is scarcely worthy of a secretary of state. The Japanese are a clever and a patriotic people. It may well be that observing the case with which their representatives obtained exactly what they wished some Japanese may resent that they didn't ask more, and by mere insinuation obtain concessions. But from the standpoint of those who in the congress oppose this treaty, the question is neither British nor Japanese. It is American."

"Here is a document which its sponsors dare not permit our people to discuss; a treaty, the papers and communications relating to which they refuse not only to the people, but to the senate as part of the treaty-making process; a pact so difficult and complex that few have any adequate understanding of it; a treaty which requires detailed and prolonged study; an international agreement which when first carefully scrutinized at home after execution abroad, demands an exchange of notes with Great Britain and Japan to clarify and explain one of its most important provisions."

"Whatever income may be turned at the altar of internationalism, whatever ever bonuses of praise may be sung to peace and good-will; whatever genuflections may be made to power that demands at all hands a treaty as a demonstration of achievement in accomplishment, this document that is sought to be crammed down the throats of the American people has within it not only the seeds of future misunderstandings and ill-will; but above and beyond all this, it is unjust and unfair to our country."

Calling attention to the objections voiced by the navy admiralty to the treaty, Senator Johnson outlined seven objections to the pact.

He said the treaty fails to reduce

Silently Jane rolled over in the direction of the tree. The lion paid no attention to her. During what seemed hours to her tense nerves she repeated these tactics, and still the lion fed on in apparent unconcern that his second prey was escaping him. Already the girl was quite near the tree a little more and she would be near enough to chance springing to her feet, throw caution aside and make a bold dash for safety. Suddenly the lion turned his great head and fastened his eyes upon her.

For a long time neither the girl nor the lion moved. The strain upon her nerves was becoming unbearable. Now Numa deliberately turned back to the business of feeding; but his back-laid ears attested a sinister regard for the actions of the girl behind him. Jane resolved to risk all in one last attempt to reach the lower tree branches. Gathering herself self steadily for the effort, she leaped suddenly to her feet, but almost simultaneously the lion sprang up, wheeled and with wide distended jaws and terrific roars charged upon her.
